

Kickoff Opens $94,000 Senate Seen Unable To Halt Veto Action

"If You Don't Do It, It Won't Get Done" is the slogan for the 1975-76 Pickaway County Community Fund Drive which begins its campaign today for a goal of $94,000.

Headed by chairman Kenny Speakman, the six-week campaign will represent 11 agencies with the addition of the Volunteers for Youth Organization.

Speakman added that this years campaign goal is four per cent or $1000 more than the 1974-75 goal, but believes that the overwhelming support he has received from the volunteer workers is an indication it can be met.

Again, volunteers will be identified by a white sticker emblem signifying them as a PCCF worker. All divisions with the exception of Advanced Gifts which began soliciting Sept. 3, begin solicitation for donations today ending Oct. 31.

Making his debut in last year's campaign the "Watchbird" will again aid PCCF as the organization's mascot. The skinny-legged bird will keep his beak pointing toward the weekly total with the anticipation of spreading his wings when the $94,000 goal is reached.

A Poster Contest, for school children, kindergarten through grade

six, is also being conducted in all the county schools. The contest deadline is Sept. 22 with the winners to be announced Sept. 26.

Key Chairman Positions in the 1975-76 campaign include, Speakman, Chairman; John Fanale, Vice Chairman; Jim Mertes, Industrial; Dana Griffith, Industrial Vice Chairman; Chris Shuter, Business; Bill Smith, Special Groups; Harold Hewitt, City North; Wally Yamarick, City South; Barbara Armstrong, County West; Mary Carter, County East; Twila Lorentz, Advanced Gifts; Etha Mae Wolford, Out of County; Bob Bensonhaver and P. J. Ryall, publicity; Marguerite Shelton, collections; Carolyn Edstrom, Materials; Ron Lundberg, Training and Bob Bensonhaver, Poster Contest.

Of the total, each agency will be allotted a certain percentage.

Red Cross will receive 35 per cent of the total goal. Directly or indirectly Red Cross serves all Pickaway County residents. In 1975, the agency provided in Service to 189 Military families and food, clothing and shelter to eight families whose homes were destroyed by fire.

A total of 1410 units of blood was collected during the Bloodprogram. First Aid certificates were earned by 165 students in 18 classes taught by ten volunteer first Aid instructors.

Approximately 800 young people and adults participated in the summer swimming classes involved at the Circleville and Ashville Pools, Gold Cliff Pool, Clark's Lake and Deercreek Reservoir.

Adult and youth volunteers have contributed thousands of hours of service by means of the Red Cross including making 551 trips taking 716 people to clinics and doctor's offices.

Red Cross is now sponsoring two new youth programs which includes a 4-H Club in cooperation with the Extension Service and a baby-sitting training course.

The Pickaway County YMCA will receive 19.5 per cent of the 1975-76 goal.

The Y provides activities for the young boy who needs a place where he can belong; the young girl who enjoys the adventure of Day Camp, Nature Trips and drill teams and baton lessons; the adult man a place for athletics and Indian Guides and Princess Volunteer; the adult woman a safe place for her children and an

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate appears to be unable to overturn President Ford's veto of a crucial energy bill, assuring higher prices for fuel, food and most manufactured goods.

Failing to pick up the votes of three or four eastern Republicans, the Senate's Democratic majority virtually threw in the towel even before Ford on Tuesday announced his long-expected veto of a bill extending controls on oil prices for six months.

Thus, it appeared Ford loyalists and oil-state senators would have about 36 votes—two more than needed to sustain the veto today.

The next step by the Ford administration would be to ask Congress for a 45-day extension of price controls. During that period, Congress would be expected to adopt a gradual phase-out of controls along the lines of the 39-month proposal offered by Ford.

The end result of such a move would be that U.S. oil prices would rise to the level set by the oil-exporting nations, currently about $13.50 a barrel. U.S. oil now sells for an average of $9.50.

All sides agree that such an increase in oil prices would raise the price of gasoline, food, clothing and most other goods. But since the energy battle between Congress and the White House began eight months ago, there has been little agreement on the size of the increases.

The Library of Congress has estimated Ford's plan to end price controls on oil would mean an increase of up to 15 cents in the price of a gallon of gasoline, raise the cost of living by nearly 2 per cent and throw 600,000 Americans out of jobs.

The Ford administration predicts that gasoline prices will rise no more than 6 cents a gallon, and inflation will increase by .8 per cent. The Agriculture Department calculates that retail food prices would rise by about .7 per cent over the next 27 months because of decontrol.

Almost immediately after Ford announced his veto of the six-month price-control bill, the debate resumed in Congress.

"If the veto is not upheld, the nation is not likely to have a comprehensive energy policy for a couple of more years," said Sen. J. Glenn Beall Jr., R-Md.

Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., called the veto inflationary and "a terrible act of irresponsibility on the part of the President."

"To sustain the veto is to chance a return to the destructive cycle of higher prices and fewer jobs," said Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., who planned to vote with Ford. "To override the veto is to fall asleep in the eye of a storm and ignore the immediate energy crisis."

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said the veto destroyed the Ford administration's credibility in its battle against inflation and recession. "By this one stroke of the pen, the President has aimed a $40-billion energy shock at the American economy, a shock the economy cannot afford to suffer."

Concern Behind Food Boosts?

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Higher food prices resulting from U.S. grain sales to Russia are caused by controversy and concern over the deals and not by any threat to American supplies.

The problem is words, not wheat. U.S. farmers are producing three times as much wheat as the country will use this year. U.S. firms have sold the Russians only one-third of the wheat that is expected to be left over at the end of the year after domestic consumption and regular exports.

The controversy eased a bit Tuesday when AFL-CIO President George Meany, acting after a meeting with President Ford, told dock workers to resume loading Soviet-bound grain voluntarily.

Ford told Meany he could make no promises about what would happen to food prices. But he extended until mid-October a moratorium on new grain sales to Russia and said he would try to work out a long-term agreement to minimize the impact of any future sales.

An AFL-CIO spokesman said the boycott suspension was for one-month only, pending further developments. The controversy continues.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates the 1975 wheat crop at a record 58.3 million metric tons. Added to stockpiles, that gives the nation a total supply of 67 million metric tons.

Only 19.4 million metric tons of wheat will be used at home; 34 million metric tons will be exported to countries other than Russia. That leaves almost 13.6 million metric tons.

Thus far this year, U.S. firms have sold the Russians about one-third of that 13.6 million metric tons, leaving just over nine million metric tons for storage in grain silos across the country.

If supplies are adequate, why are prices going up?

One reason is that people still remember what happened after the 1972 grain sales to the Soviet Union. The traditionally large American stockpiles were almost depleted; wheat prices quadrupled, from $1.32 a bushel in July 1972 to $5.29 in January 1974; food prices went up almost 30 per cent in two years and the grain sales shared the blame with rising energy costs and government price controls that disrupted production cycles.

There are several differences between the situation now and in 1972:

—U.S. firms have sold the Soviets less corn and wheat this year — a little more than nine million metric tons compared with about 18 million metric tons in 1972.

—There is more grain available for export to Russia. The 1972 sales represented 99 per cent of the U.S. wheat carryover — the amount left after domestic use and regular exports —in contrast to this year's 33 per cent.

—The world grain situation has improved from 1973 and 1974 when drought and famine in developing countries increased demand for wheat and corn from U.S. stockpiles — stockpiles that had been depleted by the 1972 Russian sale.

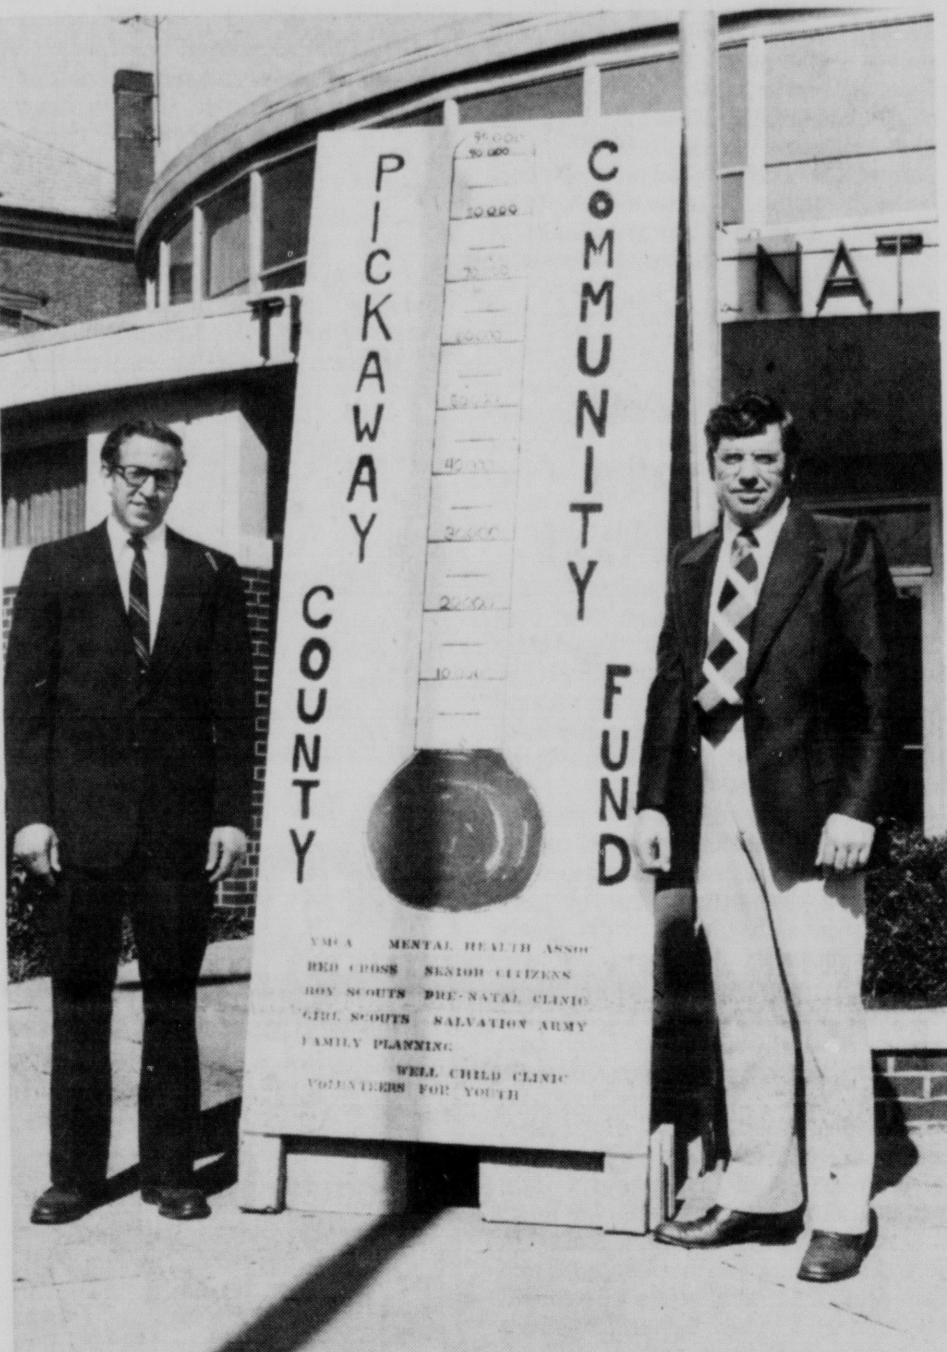

Nonetheless, fear of a potential shortage can drive up prices just as surely as a shortage itself. Warnings can turn anticipation into reality. That is what has happened this year.

FUND DRIVE UNDERWAY—Kenny Speakman, right, PCCF Chairman and John Fanale, left, Vice Chairman, stand ready for today's kickoff of the 1975-76 Pickaway County Community Fund Drive. After months of preparation, the committee is prepared to watch the thermometer rise as volunteers canvass the county for donations. The $94,000 campaign will run for six weeks to Oct. 31.

Community Fund Campaign Began 20 Years Ago

The Pickaway County Community Fund was begun 20 years ago raising $26,650 for the five participating agencies—Youth Canteen, Pickaway Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Salvation Army.

George Roth was the first president, a position he held for two years, and Dr. G. D. Phillips was the first campaign chairman.

Over the years, the Community Fund budget has increased, until the 1975 goal is $94,000, and the number of agencies has increased to 11. The Youth Canteen was discontinued a number of years ago.

The agencies that have been added are Well Child Clinic, Mental Health Assn., Senior Citizens Center, Family Planning, pre-Natal Clinic and Volunteers for Youth. The latter was added just this year.

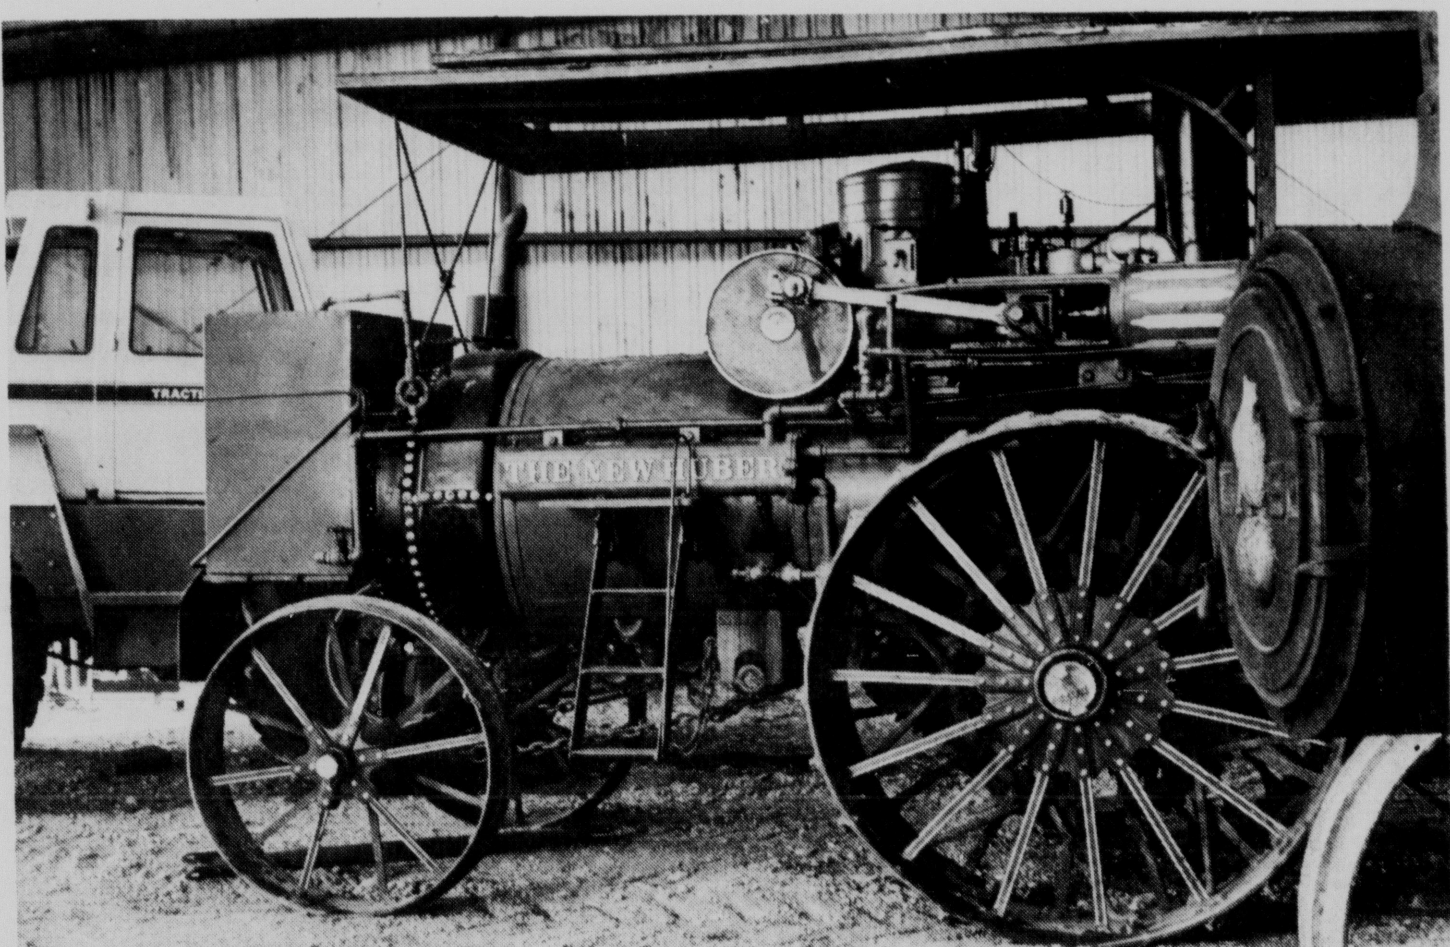

Succeeding Dr. Phillips as campaign chairman in 1956 was E. G. Grigg, who moved up to president the following year. Although the advancement of the campaign chairman to president is almost an automatic step now, this was not the case in the early years of the fund. Presidents who served more than one year in addition to Roth were Larry Varble and Robert L. Burton.

Here is the complete list of officers of the campaign and the amounts raised each year since its inception (the president is listed first and the campaign chairman second):

Deputies Investigate Thefts

Pickaway County Sheriff's Authorities investigated three reports of theft in the county.

John Secrest, Route 1, Lockbourne, told Deputy Larry Kellenberger, that thieves forced their way into his car removing a citizens band radio sometime between Monday and Tuesday.

The thieves apparently used a coat-hanger to unlock the driver's door.

The radio was valued at $200.

Traps and stretchers, valued at $141.50 were removed by thieves from a building at the rear of the Roger M. Diltz residence, 1105 S. Washington St., between Monday and Tuesday.

A door lock was broken to gain entry to the building.

Thieves took tools from a shop building located on the property of John Strawser, Route 1, occurring Monday or Tuesday.

The thieves were able to gain entry through an unlocked sliding door taking the tools valued at $33.99.

Deputy J. Phillip Brown investigated the two thefts.

3 Appear In Common Pleas Court

Three men appeared this morning in the mid-week session of Pickaway County Common Pleas Court. Judge William Ammer sentenced one man to a prison term and released another from jail under the provisions of the shock probation statute.

Kenneth Valentine, was originally sentenced on charges of aggravated burglary and grand theft. Judge Ammer ordered the man released and placed him on probation for three years.

A term of six months to five years in the Ohio Penitentiary was sentenced to Milton Zickafosse. Zickafosse had pleaded guilty previously to a charge of grand theft at Buckeye Mart.

A final case on today's docket was Gerald Dozier who was indicted Friday by the grand jury for aggravated assault. He pleaded guilty to the offense and the court ordered a pre-sentence report to be prepared by the Adult Parole Authority.

State Job Layoffs Still Rising

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-four investigators will be laid off by the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation later this month as the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes continues to chip away at the state payroll.

More than 1,100 state employees have been laid off since Rhodes took office last January. The governor ordered a 2 per cent cutback in all departments last July to compensate for a state budget which he said was underfunded.

"These layoffs are due directly to the failure of the General Assembly to simply meet the Bureau's continuation payroll," BWC Deputy Administrator Philip A. Workman said in a statement Tuesday.

The Democratic-controlled legislature, which returns to begin a special session today, is expected to fuel the growing dispute. Legislative leaders say they will ask for the appointment of a select committee to investigate the hiring and firing practices of the Rhodes administration.

The Department of Natural Resources laid off 167 employees last week and the Commerce Department dropped 27 workers, cutting its Consumer Protection Division in half.

Veterans Day Change Nears

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal observance of Veterans Day will return to the traditional Nov. 11 date if President Ford signs legislation that has cleared Congress.

The House voted Tuesday, 410 to 6, to change the holiday back to the date on which it had been observed for 50 years before Congress in 1968 moved several holidays to Mondays to provide long weekends.

The Senate already had passed the bill. Ford must now sign it for it to become law.

Receiving 13.5 per cent of the total goal is the Boy Scouts of America.

Serving 450 boys in the Pickaway District, it is the purpose of the Boy Scouts to provide an effective program designed to build desirable qualities of character, to train in the responsibilities of participating citizenship and to develop in them personal fitness.

In addition, 901 residents of Orient State Institute received the Scouting program in 56 units. They are being administered by a separate division for Scouting for the handicapped within the Central Ohio Council.

Also, 29 young adults, both men and women, were members of a law enforcement Explorer post sponsored by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

In 1975 the Pickaway District will expand with the addition of several new units throughout the county.

Girl Scouts of America will receive 12 per cent of the $94,000.

The county's two Service Units serves 821 girls, ages seven through 17, through an informal educational program in which girls are inspired with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service that they may become happy and resourceful citizens.

The Pickaway County Girl Scouts belong to the Seal of Ohio Council which furnishes the professional help necessary for carrying out the program of a national and international organization with all its opportunities.

Troops are active in Circleville, Ashville, South Bloomfield, Williamsport, Commercial Point and Jefferson Addition.

During 1974, the Salvation Army, which receives 7.4 per cent of the total, provided gifts of food or clothing at Christmas to 10 needy families; sponsored 25 underprivileged children to the Salvation Army Camp Swoneky; provided stranded travelers with food, lodging and helped with transportation; provided furniture and help with housing to needy families and supported the State Salvation Army which maintains various hospitals for unwed mothers, alcoholics and indigent people.

The function of the Well Child Clinic, receiving 3.2 per cent of the goal, is to provide health care for pre-school children of families in Pickaway County who are unable to provide such care.

The clinic also counsels the mothers of these children in general family nutrition.

In 604 clinic visits, 1144 persons were provided the services of the Well Child Clinic.

Associated with the State Association, the Mental Health Association receives 2.7 per cent of the goal.

The MHA provides programs, open to the public, on such topics as drug use and abuse, Scioto-Paint Valley Guidance Center, Orient State Institute, and various aspects of mental health and retardation.

Senior Citizens Center is allotted 2.7 per cent of the Community Fund goal.

Serving 530 members as well as others of all ages in the Pickaway County, the Senior Citizens Center operates five-eight hour days per week planning and carrying-out recreational, social, education activities, and health services.

The Center also provides free facilities for Social Security representatives. The County Commissioners also arranged for the Senior Citizens to provide and prepare over two acres of land for garden space.

The Center staff consists of the Director, program coordinator, homemaker, all full-time and two part-time workers which include a 12-hour per week bookkeeper and an eight hour per week janitor.

The Family Planning Association, receiving 2.1 per cent of the total, provided information and education regarding family planning and birth control so that the health and integrity of the family unit can be maintained.

The clinic utilizes many volunteers and some paid professionals. Four local doctors rotate their services along with two other nurses and several workers at each session held every Monday night at Berger Hospital.

A total of 226 patients were involved in the clinic in 1974.

Receiving nine-tenths of one per cent of the amount, the Pre-Natal Clinic is sponsored by the Circleville Child Conservation League, providing free pre-natal care for the women unable to afford these services.

Services were rendered to 95 patients during 1974. The clinics are held throughout the year on the first and third Wednesday of each month.

The 11th and 1975 addition to Community Fund is the Volunteers For Youth.

Receiving 1.2 per cent of the total, VFY is one of over 2,000 organizations across the nation which provide free assistance to courts to help alleviate overburdened probation case loads and provide more effective rehabilitative services to the offender.

Organized locally in 1973 by Mrs. Thomas Downing, VFY works through the Pickaway County Juvenile Court to provide probationers with a one-to-one relationship with an adult volunteer.

The probationers meet once a week for approximately three hours with a volunteer rather than once a month for 10-20 minutes with the regular officer.

A weekly report of the Drive will be provided county residents so that they may watch the need be met.

A-C Board Completes Staffing

The Amanda-Clearcreek Board of Education hired two teachers and several non-certificated staff members at its regular board meeting Monday. The resignations of teachers James Wright and Sarah Dresler were accepted.

Employed as teachers were Mary J. Voss and Irene June Klayman. Kay A. Helm was employed as a DPPF aide and Judith Miller as school health nurse.

Substitute bus drivers employed at the meeting were Bruce Ebert, Evelyn Boyd, Rober Cusinger, Novella Drake, Leewood Rhymmer.

The board also accepted the resignation of Sheryl Arnold as junior high cheerleader advisor.

Permission was granted to James Flanagan, guidance counselor for the district, to attend a guidance clinic in Columbus on Sept. 26, and 27.

The board also passed a resolution commending the students of the high school for the work they did this year on the building. The students have been painting and beautifying the inside and outside of the building.

Another resolution giving free passes to all A-C activities to the senior citizens of the school district, 65 or older, was approved by the board.

In final action, the board gave permission to the band boosters to hold a square dance on Sept. 13 at the high school building.

The meeting was adjourned until Sept. 22, at 8 p.m.

24 Millionaires Didn't Pay Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-four American millionaires managed to avoid paying a penny in federal taxes in one recent year, according to Internal Revenue Service data released by a member of Congress.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, said in a House speech Tuesday that seven of the millionaires had a total adjusted gross income of $17,783,008, an average of $2.54 million per person.

"There were also 17 (other) millionaires who avoided any tax after calculating their tax deductions and credits," according to IRS information for 1973, Vanik said. He did not identify the millionaires or explain the tactics they had used.

In addition, there were "54 individuals with adjusted gross incomes of between $500,000 and $1 million who paid no federal income tax and 292 individuals with adjusted gross income of between $200,000 and $500,000 who paid no individual income tax."

Vanik, a member of the taxwriting Ways and Means Committee, also said that 15 major oil companies paid foreign governments about eight times as much tax as they did to the United States in 1974.

He said "it is appalling to note" that the companies listed payments of $9,554,112,000 to foreign countries, but only a reported $1,309,136,000 in U.S. federal income taxes.

Vanik identified the 15 oil companies as Occidental, Texaco, Mobil, Gulf, Atlantic Richfield, Standard of Ohio, Getty, Ashland, Standard of California, Standard of Indiana, Union of California, Sun, Phillips, Continental and Cities Service.

He said two other firms, Exxon and

Shell, were omitted from the survey "because information provided to the SEC (Securities Exchange Commission) made computations impossible."

Vanik spoke as the Ways and Means Committee moved Tuesday to end farm tax shelters used by wealthy city dwellers to virtually escape paying taxes.

The panel voted 23 to 10 to end such benefits, under which the wealthy use packaged investments in cattle breeding and feeding, tree crops, vegetable and field crops and other farm items to build up accounting losses that they can apply against their tax liability.

Committee tax specialists estimated that elimination of this device could bring $110 million more in taxes to the government next year.

The committee, however, moved to give a small tax break to those persons whose only investment in farming is a home vegetable garden. It agreed by voice vote on a plan to allow a $7 tax credit for any taxpayer buying up to $100 worth of gardening tools.

Williamsport News

By EILEEN EASTERDAY, Phone 986-3481

The excitement is all over town with young and old alike waiting for the Thursday evening opening of the fifth annual Williamsport Festival.

And to the many questions I have had about what kind of soup the women of the United Methodist Church will be serving, I can only tell you that I have been assured there will be the chicken noodle soup the women were so famous for at the Pumpkin Show for so many years. They no longer operate a concession booth at the show.

They plan to serve another variety or two so don't miss stopping by the soup kitchen which will be located inside the Pavilion.

For a sandwich to go along with the soup the firemen will be frying fish as usual at their stand in the firehouse located just by the Pavilion. The Boosters will have a variety of sandwiches as well as other booths along the midway. For dessert what could be better than a piece of homemade pie from members of the Sorosis Club?

After having eaten your fill and the need to sit down for a spell comes over you why just drop by the Legion area and play a few games of Bingo. On the other hand if you feel frisky and lively then ride the amusement rides where with a coupon you can have six rides for only a dollar. Don't say that isn't a bargain!

With all the hectic pace of getting ready for our festival there is still time for card clubs so last Tuesday evening it was euchre club at the home of Betty Clifton where for two months a-running that Eggie Hayes took home the most lones prize. Dolly Thompson won high score and Dot Burris got low. Floating lones was all over the place but if memory serves me right it went home with Janet Clifton.

This Tuesday evening was canasta club at the home of Esther Picklesimer. Prize winners were Jeanine Hamman (subbing for Pearl Cochenour) high; Colleen Justice, traveling; Mary Alice Greenwood (subbing for Margene Looney) door; and the hostess got low. Also playing were Jackie Hopper, Mae Litter, Dorothy Carle and yours truly who was remembered by her secret sister with a birthday gift and an anniversary gift. Super! super!

Birthday time this year has really been a fantastic event for this gal. Received a lot of goodies from the family with probably my new bowling ball and bag topping the list. Friday evening at the Valley House seafood buffet with Mary Alice Greenwood picking up the tab and the management gifting me with a clever cleaver was really neat, too.

Don and Dorothy Coates filled the other two chairs at our table. Also had the pleasure of meeting the Fred Howells and the Forrest Thomasons who were enjoying the edibles from the sea. Fact is, there were a number of Pickaway Countians partaking of the delectable cuisine. Most were going on to the CHS vs CHS football game (translated that means Circleville High School versus Chillicothe High School).

Demos Vie For Mayor

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Two Democrats, incumbent Harry Kessler and unindorsed candidate Pamela Daoust, will face each other in Toledo's mayoral election next November.

Local Republicans were left without a candidate when Gerald Trepinski finished third in the five-person municipal primary election Tuesday. The final unofficial count gave Kessler 24,555 votes, Daoust 21,750 and Trepinski 17,493.

If elected, Mrs. Daoust, a member of the city council, would be Toledo's first woman mayor.

Voters also nominated 16 of 21 city council candidates. Defeated was a $39.5 million bond issue for enlargement of the Toledo waste water treatment plant. The unofficial count was 23,015 votes for the issue and 35,752 against.

Findlay Firemen Won't Be Fired

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Findlay Service-Safety Director Maxene Radabaugh said Tuesday she has dropped plans to have 20 Findlay firemen fired for taking part in a weekend strike.

However, she said the 20 would be suspended for one day each as a disciplinary measure. Since Findlay firemen work 24 hours on and two days off, the suspension will cost them about one-half week's pay.

Famed traveler and commentator Lowell Thomas was born in 1892 in Woodington, Darke County, Ohio.

Sunday evening the local September birthday trio which consists of Greenwood, Edna Newhouse and myself gathered for our traditional birthday dinner at my domicile. Later we were joined by Jeanine Hamman for a jolly foursome at the card table with canasta being the game.

Pearl Cochenour stopped by for a brief chat and to express the family's gratitude for all the lovely cards sent to Grandma B (Agnes Brayshaw). Our sweet beloved Grandma B. is gravely ill at Berger Hospital. Pearl wanted everyone to know how much the cards meant to Grandma B.

Herschel and Mae Litter went galavantin' for a few days last week. First of all they were in Oak Hill, W. Va. and spent time with Uncle Lace and Aunt Muri Sanger where they were treated to some real old fashioned type home cookin'. Next they went to Charleston, W. Va. for a few days with Mae's brother David Daily and his family.

During the weekend they had granddaughter Julie Litter of Londonderry while Julie's parents, Eddie and Peggy Litter, drove over to Arlington, Va. They were taking granddaughter Shana Jo Stacy, who is all of four-weeks-old over to be with her parents, Mike and Tammy Litter Stacy. Mike is in the service and newly located at Arlington. The young couple were home hunting and getting established while Shana Jo stayed here with her grandparents.

Mary Ann Litter of our town and Dolly Trego of Londonderry accompanied Martha "Kate" Russell of our village to Salyersville, Ky. over the weekend for a visit with the Don Russell family. Rita and Pete Russell enjoyed the trip, too. Tina Russell stayed with grandparents Herschel and Mae Litter and kept cousin Julie Litter company.

The Picklesimers, Charlie, Esther and Faith Ann were at The Plains home of Dave and Janet Lovett and T. D. for Sunday dinner. The Lovetts celebrated their 11th anniversary on Saturday. Esther will be back down there this Friday to bring young T. D. up for the bigger and better festival. The senior??? Lovetts will drive up later in the weekend for the shindig.

Be with you again next week, be the Lord willing. Take care. Think About: What else but our super neat festival with its tremendous parades, rodeo, fish fry, bingo, soup, good food and six rides for one dollar.

1,300 Attend 27th GE Picnic

Over 1300 General Electric employees and guests enjoyed exclusive use of Columbus Zoo Amusement Park on Saturday, Sept. 6, according to E. G. Grigg, plant manager. This was the plant's 27th consecutive picnic since it began operations in Circleville.

Activities of the day included free rides for everyone on the Park's major amusement rides, free soft drinks, candy and coffee, and drawings for door prizes. Bingo was played and enjoyed by several hundred of the employees and guests from 1 to 4 p.m. in the ballroom.

The picnic was climaxed by the drawings for GE small appliances. Grand prizes were the winner's choice of one of four GE products, including a clothes dryer, mobile dishwasher, portable TV, or room air conditioner. The grand prizes were won by Nancy Speakman and Dorothy Thompson.

A Page Of Opinion

Symptoms Of National Malaise

The outbreak of violence in Louisville and Boston over school desegregation and busing of pupils is a symptom of deeper national ills.

In both cities, the courts have ruled the schools must eliminate any traces of segregation. Regrettably, the violent reaction to these orders has been aimed at the wrong people, those who must uphold the law.

Racial balance is a tough

issue. It has been made worse by sloppily-written laws and, in some cases, by high-handed judges.

But, deeper than the racial issue is that of loss of local control. The big-brotherism of the Congress and the federal judiciary has seriously eroded the individual's right to shape his own destiny.

It would seem to observers that much of the violence can be laid to frustration on the part of this nation's citizens who see constant infringement of their rights.

Despite all the talk of returning government to the people, the trend has been, and remains, in the other direction.

Perhaps a move should be made for shorter and shorter sessions of governing bodies on all levels. At least this would keep them from passing more and more laws.

Remarkable Men

By JIM BISHOP

There are success stories which give hope to the flagging heart. None, I suspect, will match the true-life book just completed by Bob Considine. It is called "The Remarkable Life of Dr. Armand Hammer." What is remarkable is that the busiest man in America managed to find time for the busiest writer in America. And vice versa.

Bob Considine is the decathlon champion of authors. He does well with sports, biography, history, politics, military affairs, religion, crime, short stories, newspaper columns and topical magazine articles. It's easier to like him than to compete with him.

Dr. Armand Hammer, on the other hand, has, in his 78th year, cut his work day to 16 hours. He was born on the Lower East Side of New York where the pushcart peddlers sold colored ice for a penny. And few children could afford it.

He was a teen-age undergraduate at Columbia University when he put the world on notice that it would someday have to deal with him. He took over a pharmaceutical house called Good Laboratories and made a million. Today it's called Allied Chemical.

And yet he found time to get his doctorate. He also found time to study piano, date girls and learn international politics. He's an oil baron, a banker, a broker, counsel to several governments.

That's Dr. Hammer's morning life. In the afternoon, he is a tycoon in the fields of network radio, whiskey, coal, cattle, art and oil. As an afterthought, he is chairman of the world-renowned art gallery, Knoedler's. He is the friend of presidents, prime ministers and kings.

In a burst of generosity Hammer gave a $1 million Goya painting to Leningrad's Hermitage. He gave his personal collection of paintings — $25 million worth — to the Los Angeles County Museum and National Gallery. Never, within my ken, has a man traveled so far so fast.

For creature comfort Hammer has three Rolls Royces, a big private jet plane, homes in Los Angeles and New York, in addition to private apartments in Moscow and London. And yet money isn't the story. Considine found it in Dr. Hammer's zest for battle "tomorrow."

The doctor has a $2 billion contract with the Soviet Union for fertilizer, but that isn't the heart of the book. To my way of thinking, it occurred last year. Hammer is the top officer and stockholder of Occidental Petroleum.

In 1956, the stock was selling for 18 cents. Occidental was so poor that it needed $50,000 to drill two wells. Hammer lent the money. The two wells — impossible! — were gushers. Within a few weeks, the magic doctor owned half of Occidental.

In the manner of most of Hammer's projects, Occidental grew bigger and bigger. Last October, John H. Swearingen, board chairman of Standard Oil of Indiana, sat across a desk from Hammer.

Swearingen proposed that Standard Oil buy Occidental. It was selling at $14 a share. Swearingen offered $17. Standard (sixth-largest) told Occidental (11th-largest) that together they would move into the top 10 of world corporations with annual sales of $17 billion.

Hammer heard the man out. By saying yes, he would realize a profit of $21 million and have no further headaches. The doctor said no. He doesn't like to be bargained, raided or threatened.

Few men are so quick, or so loud, to alert the President, the Congress and the press to what Hammer sees as a danger. Within a few weeks, he was testifying before a Senate committee.

Instead of speaking of his own enrichment, Hammer said: "The freedom and independence of Occidental Petroleum is at stake. This is a matter of vital importance to our 300,000 shareholders, our 32,000 employees and to the many companies, large and small, with whom we deal in the free marketplace." Occidental was not devoured by anyone.

The immeasurable greatness of this country is not in its streams, its timberland, its mines or its farms. It is in the sons and daughters of immigrants who aspire to leave the ghetto and move into a mansion a few blocks away. The new frontiers are in a boy's mind.

Of the two men, I would say Armand Hammer is the luckier. He persuaded Bob Considine to write his book.

Retail Sales Up Slightly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Retail sales in Ohio climbed five per cent in July after figures were adjusted to account for seasonal highs, the Center for Business Research at Ohio State University said today.

Without the adjustment, the increase was only one per cent. The center said it adjusts the raw data by figuring out normal seasonal increases in the retail business.

The adjusted five per cent increase was the same as the sales decline from May to June.

July sales were a fraction ahead of those of July 1974 while sales for the first seven months of 1975 compared to the same period a year ago were up two per cent, the center said.

Paint, glass and wallpaper stores showed the largest gain in the 25 business lines covered by the study. They were up 44 per cent.

They were followed by florists, up 31 per cent; family clothing stores, up 23 per cent; and motor vehicle dealers, up 10 per cent.

Battle Of Britain Pilot Ends Era

WATTISHAM, England (AP) — "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few," said Winston Churchill of the fighter pilots who saved Britain in the summer of 1940.

Today the last Battle of Britain pilot in the Royal Air Force retired. He was Flight Lieut. Douglas Hone, 57, the fighter controller at Wattisham Air Base. For his last parade the RAF brought a Battle-of-Britain Spitfire out of retirement so fellow officers could tow him in it.

In the Battle of Britain, Hone shot down one bomber, shared another and was credited with three probables. He went on to reconnaissance fighter-bombing over Europe and was shot down three times.

"Who does your signs?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Our five-year-old daughter is the tyrant of the house. She knows she is cute and plays my husband against me, and me against my husband. How can we control her?

Mr. and Mrs. M. F., Mich.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. F.: Children know when they have the upper hand in a family.

They also know when their parents are terrorized by them and when they can dominate the other children in the family.

Infants and young children have antennae with a built-in radar system that tells them when there are conflicting attitudes in the parents.

They must, at a very early age, be made aware that there is a single, unified attitude towards them. Parents must speak out and come to a conclusion about the way a problem should be handled.

If your child is a "tyrant" it is probably because you have permitted yourselves to be tyrannized by her.

You must both be consistent, not only in the love you give your child, but in the limits you set for her. Establish reasonable limits and insist that they be respected.

The transition may be difficult for you at first because you seem to be too permissive in your attitude towards her. But there is joy in store for all three of you if you "firm up" and establish a definite framework in which she can function happily.

It is possible that you will need the help and support of someone trained in this field, such as a psychologist or psychiatrist.

What is the cause of a marked flow of saliva? When it does happen I find it uncontrollable.

Mr. E.S.E., Calif.

Dear Mr. E.: The condition you describe is known as "ptyalism." Normally, an adult produces about two pints of saliva a day. With ptyalism, it may be as much as ten quarts a day.

Tobacco, certain drugs and metals like bismuth and mercury can be responsible for excessive salivation.

There are a number of intestinal and nervous disorders which may be a cause.

You should make a serious effort to try, by trial and error, to establish the cause.

Cambodia Gives Own Version Of Seizure Of Mayaguez

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials say the American case for taking military action in the Mayaguez ship seizure four months ago has been strengthened by the first official account of that event by the Cambodian government.

The officials noted that the rescue operation began more than 52 hours after the White House first publicly demanded the release of the vessel.

But the Cambodian account of the incident, given in a New York speech Saturday night by Deputy Premier and Foreign Minister Ieng Sary, suggested that Cambodia had decided to free the vessel 39 hours after the Ford administration had made known its demands. For reasons Ieng Sary did not disclose the Cambodian government waited 13 hours before announcing its intentions. By that time, the American rescue operation was under way.

The White House announcement of the seizure came on Monday afternoon, May 12, and Ieng Sary said the Cambodian government first learned of the incident from an American radio broadcast monitored in Phnom Penh. This indicated that the decision to seize the vessel was made by a local commander, not by the central government.

Ieng Sary said the commander was promptly ordered to travel to Phnom Penh to explain the seizure. "He informed us of this affair and around 5 p.m. we ordered him back with the order to release the Mayaguez ship immediately," the minister said.

He did not give the date but American officials said he apparently meant 5 p.m. Wednesday (6 a.m. Washington time the same day).

The U.S. assault began at about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday as American forces stormed an offshore island and bombed an airfield on the Cambodian mainland. It was shortly after 7 p.m. that Cambodia announced its willingness to release the vessel.

"By that time it was too late," a U.S. official said, adding that the rescue operation would have been unnecessary if Cambodia "only had announced earlier the decision it had long since made privately."

He said the State Department received no communications from Cambodia during the 52 hours suggesting the possibility of a diplomatic solution.

The 39-man Mayaguez crew was rescued but 15 American soldiers were killed and more than 50 others wounded. In addition, 23 U.S. servicemen were killed in Thailand as they were being transported by helicopter from one air base to another for possible use in the rescue operation.

Corn Harvesting In Hoosierland

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Corn harvesting is underway in southern Indiana, nearly one week ahead of the average.

Agriculture specialists at Purdue University said Monday 25 per cent of the Indiana corn crop is mature and safe from frost. They said less than 10 per cent of the corn was mature at this time last year.

They said 85 per cent of the corn has denting but some lateplanted fields still were in the dough stage at the end of last week.

Purdue said 60 per cent of the soybean crop is now yellowing and 20 per cent is shedding leaves. A few fields have been combined.

Coliseum Inaugurated

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A capacity throng of 17,000 rock concert goers inaugurated Cincinnati's new $20 million Riverfront Coliseum Tuesday night, flocking to see the Allman Brothers rock and roll band.

The just-completed arena will be the home of the Cincinnati Stingers of the World Hockey Association beginning next year. The Kentucky Colonels, defending champions of the American Basketball Association, are under contract to play 17 games a year, including playoffs, for the next 10 years.

Police reported no major outbursts during the concert. Ushers said the major complaint was gate-crashers. The arena is located adjacent to Riverfront Stadium, only a five minute walk from the downtown area.

The rock concert will be followed by three rodeo performances this weekend. Promoters are predicting crowds of 15,000 for each session, which would rank among the largest indoor crowds ever to watch rodeo.

Water Short For School

CARDINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Cardington schools will remain closed another four or five days because of a water shortage brought about when pressure dropped at the community's six shallow wells.

William Hack, sanitarian for the Morrow County Health Department, said a new well was undergoing test pumping and "looks promising." He said it would be a few days before it could be put into production.

Adding to the problems was a malfunction on a main line pump that left the community virtually without water.

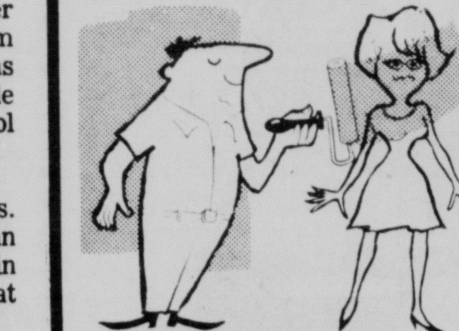

Hack said maintenance is continuing on the supply system and the community is looking for other sources of water outside its boundaries to avoid shortages in the future.

About 1,300 students around Cardington are out of school because of the shortage. Cardington is a village of 1,800, six miles south of the county seat, Mount Gilead.

Americans Cut Vacation Spending

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
Americans refused to let inflation cancel summer vacations this year, but they stayed closer to home, spent time in one place rather than traveling around and searched for bargains at hotels and restaurants.

An Associated Press survey of major tourist areas showed the number of visitors in every area was higher than it was in 1974 when the gasoline shortage cut sharply into summer motoring.

There was plenty of gasoline this year. The only problem was figuring out how to pay for the fuel, the lodgings, the food and the sightseeing that make up a vacation.

Michael Frucci, executive secretary of the Cape Cod Chamber of Commerce said 1975 "was a very good year." He said he expected statistics on over-all resort business to be up 12 per cent from 1974, making this year the best ever.

At the same time, some restaurants reported business was off.

"People are economy minded and are looking for less expensive places to eat or are bringing their own food," said one operator of a hotel with a restaurant. "Even at breakfast time, we found people eating less."

Florida officials said tourism business was up about 10 per cent from 1974. But they said that while the northern part of the state was doing well, the southern part, including Miami, was suffering.

"Tourists have tended to pull in their horns," said Hal Cohen of the Miami

Tourist Development Authority. "They're not traveling much more than 300 miles from their homes. This has worked to our disadvantage. North and Central Florida can still draw on tourists from other states."

The Automobile Club of Michigan said a comparison of 1974 and 1975 figures showed routing requests by state residents for Michigan only were up 11.5 per cent for the Upper Peninsula and 44.6 per cent for the Lower Peninsula, indicating people stayed in the state rather than take a long trip elsewhere.

The club said private campgrounds reported people were staying twice as long as they did last year and added that revenues were up for state parks, although no specifics were available.

Bob Uguccioni, a spokesman for the Pocono Mountains Tourist Bureau in Pennsylvania, said the area had 17 per cent more visitors this year than it did in 1974. People waited until the last minute, however, to make their reservations.

"It played havoc on hotel and motel operators who plan with advance reservations," Uguccioni said.

Tourists also spent less. "Where the big expensive hotels are usually the first to fill up, this year the tourists took the less expensive hotel rooms," Uguccioni said. "Nice, but not the luxury ones."

Circleville Child Development League held its first meeting of the season Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Wayne Lash, Route 2.

Members answered roll call by contributing an item of new clothing to be given to the children of the league's adopted family. Mrs. Wayne Lash, president, presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. Joe Rooney, program chairman, opened the meeting by reading a poem entitled "Turning Thirty." Mrs. Rooney also discussed highlights and changes in the coming year's program.

Dwight Frazier, son of the Rev. and Mrs. David Frazier, and John Stout, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stout, were the guest speakers. Frazier and Stout, members of the "Wandering Wheels," a coast to coast riding team, took turns describing some of the adventures they encountered in a 39 day road trip pedalling over 3,000 miles from the Pacific to the Atlantic. The Wandering Wheels was founded by football coach, Bob Davenport, whose philosophy of getting the boys together for the bicycle tours is to "Grow Up

With God" in both mind and body by sharing their faith in Christ along the road.

Ann Morehart, a member of the Bicentennial Committee, said that Heritage Days is to be held September 20 and 21 and would be open to all interested persons. The traveling basket was won by Diane Walker.

Co-hostess, Mrs. Robert Parker, provided refreshments to 14 members and one guest. The next meeting will be October 6 at the home of Mrs. David Scheible, 681 Fairlawn Drive.

Oil Company Tax Rates Said Too Low

WASHINGTON (AP)—Domestic oil companies pay little federal income taxes and do not need further profit incentives, U.S. Rep. Charles A. Vanick, D-Cleveland, said Tuesday.

The congressman said a study he has made shows that the companies do not need incentives such as decontrolling of oil prices as President Ford favors.

The study shows that fifteen major oil companies paid federal income taxes last year at about the same rate as a family of four with income of $21,000.

Vanick said that five of the companies, including Standard Oil Co. (Ohio), paid a lower percentage than the 14.7 per cent paid by the family of four.

The analysis shows that 15 companies earned $18.8 billion last year and paid an average of 14.7 per cent in U.S. taxes after paying taxes to foreign countries. Of the 15 firms, Occidental Petroleum paid the lowest percentage in U.S. taxes (1.6 per cent) and Cities Service paid the highest (28.6 per cent), the study states.

Sohio had an adjusted net income of $190 million and paid $28.3 million to foreign governments. Of the remaining $161.7 million, the company paid $17.5 million, or slightly more than 10 per cent, in U.S. taxes, Vanick's calculations show.

Kin's Skin Show

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 72-year-old man. Two weeks ago when I went to my son's house, his wife greeted me at the door topless!

She said my son was not home, and she stood there smiling, then asked me to come in and have a cup of coffee. I didn't know what to do, so I just kept looking her in the face and told her I just remembered I had to meet a fellow in a few minutes. Then, I left fast.

I said nothing about this to my son or anybody else, but yesterday my son asked me to meet him at his house.

When I got there, his wife greeted me at the door with absolutely nothing on! I told her I left some tools in my car and then I got into my car and drove straight home.

Abby, I don't think I can ever look that girl in the face again. I hate to tell my son, but if his wife acts like this with me, I am afraid she acts this way with others.

Should I tell my son or just forget about it?

NAME WITHHELD

DEAR NAME: Tell your son. His wife is in need of psychiatric help-and the sooner, the better.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were married eight months ago. When I mailed the wedding invitations to his relatives who all live out of state, I enclosed a little note inside which read, "Money would be the gift most appreciated."

The main reason I did it was to avoid duplications of gifts and to save them postage on the gift. I was only trying to do them a favor, but I got a lot of criticism for it.

Was that wrong? And if so, why?

MEANT WELL

DEAR MEANT: I think you were wrong. An invitation to a wedding should be just that-an "invitation." To express one's preference in a gift indicates that a gift is expected. And even more presumptuous is the request for money. A gift is a gift not an obligation.

DEAR ABBY: Stick to your guns. You are right.

Nowhere in the Bible does it say that Jesus had long hair.

However, your correspondent referred to Jesus as a Nazarene! He is wrong. A Nazarene was a member of a sect whose male members took a vow never to cut their hair, shave their beards, drink wine or touch a dead body.

Jesus was NOT a Nazarene-he was a Nazarene, which means he came from the city of Nazareth. Jesus drank wine, touched the dead, cut his hair and shaved his face. Just keeping the record straight in....

Glenn Promotes Natural Gas Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, introduced legislation Tuesday which he said could help alleviate the short-term natural gas crisis expected this winter.

The bill would allow a temporary, partial lifting of price controls on interstate gas pipelines serving distressed areas, earmark newly found gas from offshore wells to the gas-short states and empower the Federal Energy Administration to order electric power plants to convert to coal or fuel oil.

Glenn said that several bills have been introduced in the Congress to alleviate the longterm gas problem, but the short-term problem has not been faced.

Congregation Nixes Women On Staff

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP) — The congregation of Christ Church Episcopal, whose rector has repeatedly defied church law in allowing women priests to celebrate communion, has refused to invite two women priests to join the church staff.

The Rev. L. Peter Beebe, the rector of the Oberlin church, had asked the congregation to allow the women to join the staff, the same women he has allowed to celebrate communion at least ten times in defiance of a church court and his bishop.

The congregation deliberated 2½ hours until early today and voted 92-59 against the priest's request. But the congregation voted in favor of inviting the two irregularly ordained women priests to celebrate communion once a month provided that the Rev. Mr. Beebe and another male priest celebrate communion at another service.

The two women are the Rev. Alison Cheek of Annadale, Va. and the Rev. Carter Heyward of Cambridge, Mass.

In June a church court found the rector guilty of violating church law for permitting the same women to celebrate communion. Since then Bishop John H. Burt of the church's Diocese of Ohio has said the priest faces possible disciplinary action if he continues to violate church law.

The last time the women celebrated communion here was on Aug. 31.

After the congregation's action early Wednesday the Rev. Mr. Beebe said he is not sure about remaining as church rector. He has said that if Bishop Burt suspends him he would continue his priestly duties.

Although it disapproved employing the women for staff positions, the congregation issued a statement in favor of priesthood for women. The resolution reads, the Episcopal Church is "severely handicapped so long as it discriminates against women in the ministry."

The congregation meeting was closed to newsmen.

DON'T FORGET BREAKFAST

Nobody forgets to eat dinner and most people eat at least a snack for lunch. But many people are breakfast skippers. Breakfast is an important meal. After eight to 10 hours without food, the body needs nourishment to avoid an early morning slump while at school or work. Nutritionists say that breakfast should provide one-fourth to one-third of the daily nutritional requirements. Breakfast in the past was a large, heavy meal designed to feed people involved in strenuous physical labor. Since many people today do less strenuous work and are more calorie conscious, breakfast should be a light yet satisfying meal. Many people skip breakfast because they are bored with the same old breakfast foods. Actually, any good food can be a part of breakfast. A bowl of hot soup, a grilled cheese sandwich, fruits and vegetables and even ice cream can be eaten at breakfast. The important thing is to plan a well-balanced meal. This breakfast roll recipe uses refrigerated crescent rolls, a feature in our dairy departments this week.

CINNAMON-PECAN ROLLS

3/4 Cup Chopped Pecans
 1/2 Cup Powdered Sugar
 1/4 Cup Firmly Packed Brown Sugar

1 Tsp. Cinnamon
 1/4 Cup Margarine, Softened (Butter Can Be Used)
 2 8-oz. Cans Of Refrigerated Crescent Rolls

GLAZE:

1 Cup Powdered Sugar
 1 Tblsp. Butter Or Margarine Softened
 2 to 3 Tblsp. Milk

Preheat oven to 375 deg. F. In a small bowl, combine the first five ingredients. Separate one can of rolls into two large rectangles. Overlap long sides to form a 13x7-inch rectangle, firmly pressing edges and perforations to seal. Spread with pecan mixture. Separate second can of rolls into two rectangles. Place over first rectangle and press edges and perforations to seal. Cut into eight 13-inch strips. Twist, then form into a coil. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet or in a 13x9-inch pan 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. Combine glaze ingredients and drizzle over warm, baked rolls. Remove from pan. Serve warm. This recipe makes eight rolls.

Injuries Hurting Many NFL Clubs

National Football League owners may be paying four fewer salaries a year, but with players dropping right

Missouri Takes Jump In Grid Poll

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer
The Missouri Tigers, unheralded in the preseason rankings, have climbed into fifth place in this week's Associated Press college football poll thanks to Monday night's nationally televised 20-7 upset of Alabama.

The stunning setback dropped the Crimson Tide, runnerup in the first 1975 poll, all the way to 13th.

Oklahoma's defending national champions held onto first place, although they don't open their season until Saturday. The Sooners received 51 first-place votes and 1,108 points from a panel of 56 sports writers and broadcasters across the country.

Alabama's defeat allowed Michigan, Ohio State and Southern California to move up one spot each to second, third and fourth, respectively. Michigan received one first-place ballot and 918 points, Ohio State got three No. 1 votes and 787 points while Southern Cal earned 746 points. None of the three has played a game yet.

The remaining first-place vote went to Missouri and the Tigers' total of 579 points shot them all the way up to fifth place ahead of Nebraska, Auburn, Notre Dame, Texas A&M and Penn State, who round out the Top Ten. Missouri and Penn State are the only members of the first regular-season Top Ten to have seen action.

Pat Matson Shrugs Off Quick Trade

CINCINNATI (AP)—Offensive guard Pat Matson said he doesn't believe his union activity was a factor in the Cincinnati Bengals trading him to the Green Bay Packers.

If that were the case, said the muscular 10-year veteran, it would have been last year when he led the picket line in the National Football League Players Association strike.

"I wouldn't think that would be a factor now," said Matson, who said he was advised by the Packers he will move directly into a starting position for the game this week with the San Francisco 49ers.

Cincinnati apparently decided to use second year player Dave Lapham as one of Coach Paul Brown's messenger guards.

Matson was the last remaining member of the original Bengals franchise team formed in 1968. He came to Cincinnati from the Denver Broncos.

Matson said he would say nothing detrimental about the Bengals.

"I want people to remember the good things I did. I don't want them to say I was a sour apple."

The Matsons will keep their home in Cincinnati, however. Matson has two body building shops in the city.

"I'm selfish. I'd like to have as many players as possible for my team," says Coach Charlie Winner of the New York Jets. "Right now I've got 19 guys who are injured in one way or another."

"In practice today, I had only one running back—Steve Davis—who could run. So we had to walk through all our plays."

"I had only five defensive backs who could run and three wide receivers, so you can see that if we were going into a league game, we'd be in a difficult situation."

Most teams in the NFL are in the same rocky boat—playing with skeleton crews while the injured skeletons heal.

Miami Coach Don Shula was a member of the committee which cut rosters from 47 to 43 because of "the economics of the sport."

"I sat in when those rules were made. After they're made, you abide by them. You can't bend the rules to fit your own particular situation," said Shula.

That's not to say he wouldn't like to. Shula was brought to the painful decision of placing linebacker Nick Buoniconti and safety Dick Anderson on the injured reserve list, rendering them ineligible for the entire season because of the new roster rules. Previously, a player could be placed on injured reserve and brought back before the season ended.

No longer. "This year, he's gone for the season as far as you're concerned," says Winner. "That leaves you two choices: count him on the active roster and play short for a time, or put him on injured reserve. If you get people hurt at key positions, you're in trouble with rosters the way they are."

That means the New Orleans Saints are in trouble. Quarterback Archie Manning is out for a month with a chipped elbow. The New England Patriots are in trouble; quarterback Jim Plunkett underwent surgery Sunday for a shoulder separation and will be lost for six to eight weeks.

Likewise the Atlanta Falcons, without defensive end Claude Humphrey because of a knee injury; likewise Buffalo, which has lost defensive backs Tony Greene and Robert James.

"I'd like to see the 47-man roster restored," said Washington Redskins Coach George Allen. "Everybody now is finding out, with all the injuries that are occurring, how it hurts all the teams."

It appears too late to change now. "This was decided upon by the owners and it's 43, it's good enough for me," according to Buffalo Coach Lou Saban. There are those that would disagree.

Circleville Grid Tickets On Sale

Tickets for Circleville's game at Teays Valley Friday night, both student and adult, will go on sale from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday at Circleville High School.

Student tickets will also be on sale from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday at the junior high school.

Adult tickets only will be on sale at the gates.

County Gridders Set To Go In Friday Night Encounters

It will be kickoff time for all three county schools 8 p.m. Friday when Teays Valley hosts Circleville, Westfall is at home to Madison Plains and Logan Elm travels to Berne Union in a Mid-State League encounter.

Westfall will be going after its second win of the season as coach John Glanton's Mustangs crushed Berne

Union, 20-2, last week.

The Golden Eagles of Madison Plains are classed as "small but quick" with a line that averages 165 pounds and a backfield averaging around 155 pounds.

They will operate from a pro set formation with tailback Jack Maggard being the big threat. Maggard is a very elusive runner with good speed. They will go to the air as needed with tight end Pete Sullivan the prime target.

Defensively, the Golden Eagles will use a 4-3 with zone pass coverage.

They will be looking for their first win of the season after dropping the season opener to a strong Washington C.H. squad.

Westfall will move from a multiple T offense featuring the running of John Long and Tony Simon. The Mustangs aerial game will consist of drop back and play action passes.

When the Mustangs move into a defensive formation it will be an angled front five and zone pass coverage with a monster man.

The starting offensive unit for the Mustangs will be: Roger Johnson, center; Carl Strittmatter or Denny Finch at one guard and Tim Lett at the other; Mike Weindinger and Randy Hildenbrand, tackles; Eric Schleich and John Roberts, ends; Rick Stillings, quarterback; John Long, fullback; Tony Simon, tailback; Bill Evans, wingback.

On defense it will be: Tim Lett, middle guard; Eric Schleich and John Long, linebackers; Randy Hildenbrand and Terry Williams, tackles; Dave Rowland and Mike Weindinger, ends; Rick Stillings, safety; Bill Evans, halfback; Eddie Myers, shortside halfback; Randy Adams, monster man.

Coach Perry Griffith and his Logan Elm Braves will be seeking their first win after losing a tough decision to West Jefferson in the season opener.

Berne Union will also be looking for its first win in the Mid-State opener for both schools.

The Rockets will operate from a split backfield with a flanker and have a pair of good runners in Carl Hedges and Ed Kistler. Berne Union will also throw the ball as they went to the air 22 times against Westfall.

Defensively, the Rockets will utilize a 4-4 with zone pass coverage.

The Braves will be operating out of their new wishbone formation which is beginning to shape up and could give the Rockets trouble. They like to run but have an aerial game that will keep the opposition honest.

On defense, the Braves have looked quite good using a 6-2 and a 5-4. Wayne Linthicum, Braves fullback, has suffered an ankle injury and may not see any action Friday night which could cause a revision in the offensive lineup.

Steve Rawlins will move from tackle to fullback, Dave Dean will shift from center to tackle and Bruce DeBruin will hold down the center post.

Other offensive positions will be: Seth Dreisbach and Bruce Landis, guards; Mark Kennedy, tackle; Tom Davis and Rock Huggins, ends; Jeff Reichelderfer, quarterback; Tim Justus, left half; John Eanes or Scott Allen, right half.

The defensive lineup will be: Scott Allen, Jeff Hamler and Dave Calton, defensive backs; Jeff Reichelderfer and Bob Sargent, linebackers; Steve Rawlins and Oscar Allen, ends; Mark Kennedy and Dave Dean, tackles; Pat Williams and Bruce Landis, guards.

Grid Tickets On Sale At Teays Valley School

Tickets, both student and adult, for Friday's game between Teays Valley and Circleville will be on sale at Teays Valley High School Thursday and Friday from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

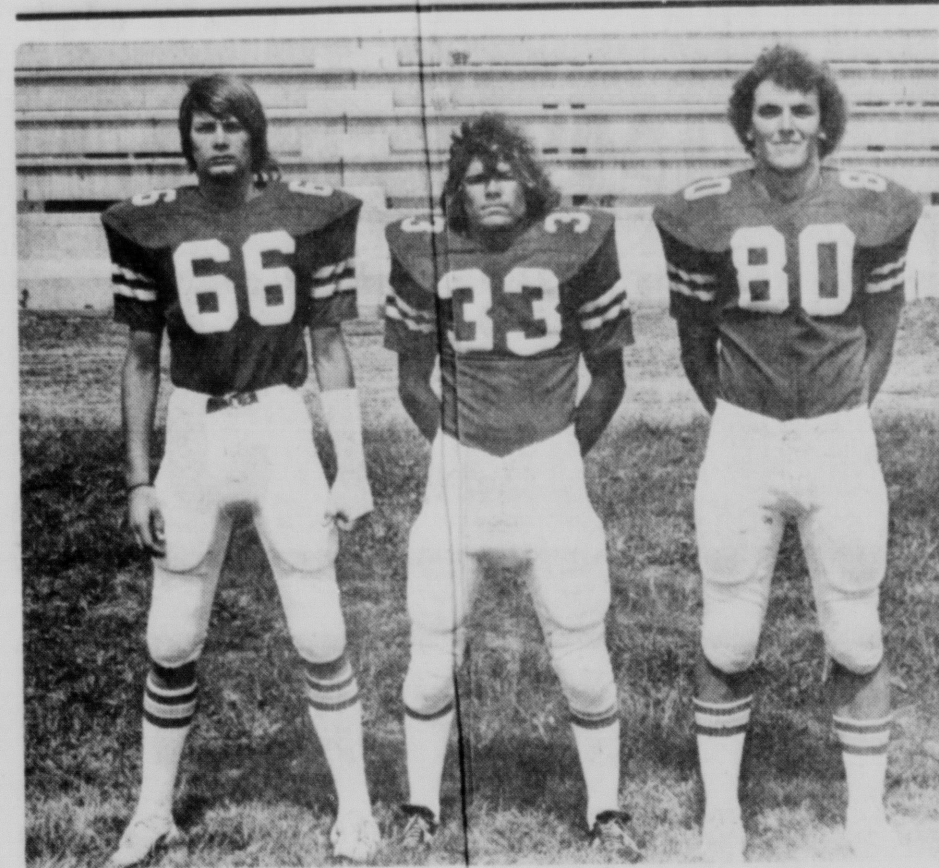

Adult tickets only will be sold at the gate Friday night.

Circleville Booster Club Meets Tonight

Circleville Athletic Booster Club will meet 8 p.m. today in the high school cafeteria.

Athletic director and head football coach Larry Cook will review films of the Chillicothe game and discuss the upcoming Teays Valley contest.

Your Horoscope Television Schedule

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Some unexpected changes indicated. Do not be dismayed. They would prove beneficial in the long run, so stress your adaptability, willingness to cooperate.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You should encounter few obstacles now, but be on guard against "little" errors, miscalculations.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Keep things moving, and with well-planned design. A "wait and see" attitude could only stifle enthusiasm on this somewhat problematic day.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Stellar influences indicate a day of successful moves and plans, but all will require know-how, diligence and painstaking care. Don't launch into uncharted seas.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Double-check plans. Work out business deals, all agreements with deliberation, ascertaining facts beforehand. Attainments now will spark more gains in the future.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): This day could have its sizzling moments. You will do well to maintain an even, systematic pace and procedure, no matter what pressures may be put upon you.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): A situation out of the past may resurface and you may have to deal again with a problem you considered solved once and forever. Don't become anxious. You will emerge a stronger person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Certain members of the family may seem to be hypersensitive, on the brink of serious rifts. Try to smooth out their differences — but with the utmost diplomacy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Day could find you the recipient of some special recognition, perhaps a gift or bonus of some kind. Whatever, there is definite public reaction to your efforts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Mixed influences. Day calls for your stamina, stick-to-itiveness, good will and ability to help yourself and others out of undesirable situations.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You may be able to put over a good deal, conclude a profitable agreement. At least, steps toward such ends can be initiated. But don't press; maneuver cautiously.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Launching into uncharted seas may take you further than expected, into waters too deep for comfort. Check before going beyond your depth.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly affable individual who makes many friends in life — and keeps them. You have a delightful sense of humor and are insatiable in your quest for knowledge. Endowed with a gift for words, you would make an outstanding writer. Brilliant in argument and debate, you could also excel as a lawyer or statesman.

Unlike many Virgoans, you may not care for business as a career but, if forced into it by circumstances, could make a good go of it through your persistence, patience and willingness to work hard at anything you undertake. You are very exacting — with yourself and others. Try to curb a tendency toward censoriousness and disillusionment when others do not live up to your lofty ideals. Birthdate of: James Thomson, poet; William Sidney Porter (O. Henry), Amer. short story writer.

Ohio Seniors Golf Lead Being Shared

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A former seniors champion and last year's runnerup have taken the first-round lead in the 35th annual Ohio Seniors Golf Tournament here.

Ed Preisler, 63, of Cleveland and Squire Caldwell, 57, of Urbana each shot 76 Tuesday on the par 72 course of The Country Club in the Cleveland suburb of Pepper Pike.

Preisler won the Seniors championship in 1967, the first year he was eligible to play. On Tuesday he shot a 37 on the front nine and 39 on the back nine.

Caldwell missed winning the championship last year when Dan Carmichael overtook him on the last hole.

Commission Puts Off Decisions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new Ohio Racing Commission, spurred by three new members, is taking its time solving the more thorny problems.

The five-member body met for more than six hours Tuesday and reached no major decisions, postponing them all to a special session in Cleveland Tuesday.

Benjamin Franklin said, "If your head is wax, don't walk in the sun."

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Okay, gang, tonight's new series lineup is "Doctor's Hospital" on NBC, "Kate McShane" on CBS, and "When Things Were Rotten" and "Starsky and Hutch" on ABC.

The sole goodie is "Rotten," the Mel Brooks-created takeoff on the Robin Hood legend. Its humor is so broad you'll need a 25-foot wide set to catch it all, so dash out and get a 25-foot wide set.

"McShane," with Anne Meara as a feisty lawyer, is a salute to over-acting and bad writing. Its plot concerns a young ex-radical lady who has a good present but is arrested for an explosively bad past.

One comment from the radical gives you an idea of it all: "I just guess I'm not ready to hold hands with the Establishment."

NBC's medicine show, starring George Peppard as a chief neurosurgeon, has competent acting. But it suffers from a dread TV disease called rehashplotitis, compounded by switchitis.

Those who witnessed last Thursday's "Medical Story" on NBC saw the dedicated young intern put his career on the line by accusing a veteran surgeon of greed and unnecessary surgery that kills a patient.

In tonight's "Doctor's Hospital," a dedicated young intern puts her career on the line by accusing a veteran surgeon of having lost his skill and killing a patient with sheer ineptitude.

If M.D. rehashplotitis spreads, this'll be the year the entire nation turns its head and coughs at the mere sight of a sawbones.

Alas, the disease already has spread from surgery to flatfootery, as witness ABC's "Starsky and Hutch," a hip young undercover cop series emitted by the makers of "The Rookies" and "S.W.A.T."

It stars David Soul and Paul Glaser as with-it fuzz who tonight chase a salt-and-pepper (black and white) duo of holdup men.

In last night's "Joe Forrester" premiere on NBC, Lloyd Bridges, as a wise old beat cop, also chased a salt-and-pepper team who, disguised as plainclothes cops, also committed stickups.

Despite a strained ending, "Forrester" had good acting, a fair plot, reasonably good dialogue and believable characters.

Not so "Starsky and Hutch." It is an amateur hour of acting and dialogue, accented by gunfire and ceaseless, tire-burning 180-degree chase-sequence turns by Starsky, who can't even do a 180 correctly.

When dinosaurs died their bodies sank into mud or sand and as years passed some of their bones and teeth and bits of skin turned slowly to stone or minerals and became fossils.

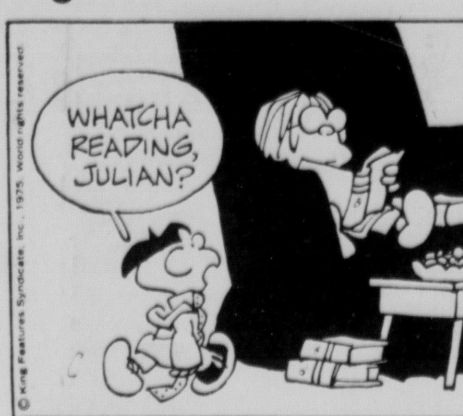

In 1750 B.C. invaders ruined a great civilization in the Indus Valley that had lasted 600 years.

FCC Not Halting Religion Broadcasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission seems unable to stop an avalanche of mail urging it not to do something it never considered doing.

The letters and postcards involving religious broadcasting total about 1.3 million, says Harry Shockro, the FCC's chief of administrative services, who oversees the mail.

But that's 600,000 more than the estimate on Aug. 1, when the commission explained in a public notice that there was never any question of banning religious broadcasting from the airwaves, as almost all the letter writers feared.

The FCC made the explanation in denying a petition for a freeze on applications by religious institutions for television or FM radio channels reserved for educational stations.

Two Los Gatos, Calif., broadcast consultants, Jeremy D. Lansman and Lorenzo W. Milam, contended that the assignment of more than one educational channel in a community to a religious group deprived minority groups of access to the scarce channels.

Their petition, filed last Dec. 5, brought the snowballing avalanche of mail and phone calls to the FCC.

The FCC, in denying it, said: "As a government agency, the commission is enjoined by the First Amendment to observe a stance of neutrality toward religion, acting neither to promote nor to inhibit religion."

The FCC pointed out that the case never did involve religious programming on any commercial network or station. It involved only the channels set aside for educational use.

And the two consultants have insisted repeatedly that they were not against religious broadcasting but only those institutions which use channels to present a one-sided view.

But the mail continued unabated, spurred by many ministers, who continued to exhort their churchgoers from their pulpits or in church bulletins to write the FCC in protest.

The 1.3 million letters and postcards dwarf the previous high for mail to the FCC, 110,000 letters when the FCC was considering last year whether to ban advertising from children's TV shows.

The quantity of the mail ruled out answering it even with form letters. The mail is being piled up in a basement storage room to be kept until Monday, after the period for appealing the Milam-Lansman decision, FCC officials say.

Then it will be disposed of, they say.

LUNCHBOX BONUS—Chicago schoolboy Eddie Chopp, 7, takes a big bite from an apple that was destined for his teacher at the Joseph Brennan elementary school. Eddie's teacher, as well as 23,000-plus, went on strike against the Chicago Public School system on what was to be the first day of school.

Marijuana Issue On Oxford Ballot

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Mike Avey, a 27-year-old law student, wants Oxford to become Ohio's first city to decriminalize marijuana.

And despite vigorous opposition, he's not letting his two-year crusade go up in smoke.

The issue goes on the ballot Nov. 4 and Avey is busy recruiting support from Miami of Ohio students who could hold the key to the project. He is concentrating on getting Miami students registered to vote by the Oct. 6 voter registration deadline.

"If they—the students—find out they can decriminalize marijuana, then they'll do something about housing problems," said Avey.

Avey's legal struggle has ended up on the ballot in the form of a city ordinance which would make "casual" possession—four ounces or less—an offense comparable to a parking violation. The offender would be fined $5.

Oxford Police Chief Joseph Statum feels that the proposed marijuana ordinance is unconstitutional. Oxford Law Director Robert Piper said passage of the ordinance would leave local police in the dilemma of deciding whether to enforce a state statute or the lesser local law.

The present state law makes the possession of less than 3.5 ounces of marijuana an offense punishable by no more than a $100 fine with no prison sentence allowable.

Judge Cramer said the new state

drug law and the proposed marijuana ordinance do not radically differ because both create a dividing point for casual possession. He contends the $95 difference in maximum fine is not grounds enough to make the proposed ordinance unconstitutional.

Butler County Prosecutor John Holcomb has already lost one round in his fight to keep the issue off the ballot.

He said he will challenge the constitutionality of the marijuana issue if voters approve it.

Shallow Grave Mystery Solved

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Butler County authorities breathed a sigh of relief after opening up what appeared to be a shallow grave in a wooded area discovered by hunters.

James Eversole, Trenton, Ohio, told officers Monday he and a companion were hunting squirrels when they came upon the grave. He said the mound was about three feet wide, and six feet long.

There was a rude cross on the grave with the name "Tony Armstrong."

Sheriff Harold Carpenter, deputies and coroner Dr. Garret J. Boone opened the grave to discover the body of a horse.

'Gun Safety' Show Backfires

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A 46-year-old Toledo man is red-faced this morning after giving a woman friend a demonstration of "gun safety" Tuesday night.

Police said James Patterson was showing the woman a .25-caliber pistol, had just removed the clip and reportedly said:

"This is when the gun is most dangerous, when it is unloaded."

The gun fired, hitting Patterson in the calf.

Kickoff Opens $94,000 Senate Seen Community Fund Drive Unable To Halt Veto Action

"If You Don't Do It, It Won't Get Done" is the slogan for the 1975-76 Pickaway County Community Fund Drive which begins its campaign today for a goal of $94,000.

Headed by chairman Kenny Speakman, the six-week campaign will represent 11 agencies with the addition of the Volunteers for Youth Organization.

Speakman added that this year's campaign goal is four per cent or $1000 more than the 1974-75 goal, but believes that the overwhelming support he has received from the volunteer workers is an indication it can be met.

Again, volunteers will be identified by a white sticker emblem signifying them as a PCCF worker. All divisions with the exception of Advanced Gifts which began soliciting Sept. 3, begin solicitation for donations today ending Oct. 31.

Making his debut in last year's campaign the "Watchbird" will again aid PCCF as the organization's mascot. The skinny-legged bird will keep his beak pointing toward the weekly total with the anticipation of spreading his wings when the $94,000 goal is reached.

A Poster Contest, for school children, kindergarten through grade

six, is also being conducted in all the county schools. The contest deadline is Sept. 22 with the winners to be announced Sept. 26.

Key Chairman Positions in the 1975-76 campaign include, Speakman, Chairman; John Fanale, Vice Chairman; Jim Mertes, Industrial; Dana Griffith, Industrial Vice Chairman; Chris Shuter, Business; Bill Smith, Special Groups; Harold Hewitt, City North; Wally Yamarick, City South; Barbara Armstrong, County West; Mary Carter, County East; Twila Lorentz, Advanced Gifts; Etha Mae Wolford, Out of County; Bob Bensonhaver and P. J. Ryal, publicity; Marguerite Shelton, collections; Carolyn Edstrom, Materials; Ron Lundberg, Training and Bob Bensonhaver, Poster Contest.

Of the total, each agency will be allotted a certain percentage.

Red Cross will receive 35 per cent of the total goal. Directly or indirectly Red Cross serves all Pickaway County residents. In 1975, the agency provided In Service to 189 Military families and food, clothing and shelter to eight families whose homes were destroyed by fire.

A total of 1410 units of blood was collected during the Bloodprogram. First Aid certificates were earned by 165 students in 18 classes taught by ten volunteer first Aid instructors.

Approximately 800 young people and adults participated in the summer swimming classes involved at the Circleville and Ashville Pools, Gold Cliff Pool, Clark's Lake and Deercreek Reservoir.

Adult and youth volunteers have contributed thousands of hours of service by means of the Red Cross including making 551 trips taking 716 people to clinics and doctor's offices.

Red Cross is now sponsoring two new youth programs which include a 4-H Club in cooperation with the Extension Service and a baby-sitting training course.

The Pickaway County YMCA will receive 19.5 per cent of the 1975-76 goal.

The Y provides activities for the young boy who needs a place where he can belong; the young girl who enjoys the adventure of Day Camp, Nature Trips and drill teams and baton lessons; the adult man a place for athletics and Indian Guides and Princess Volunteer; the adult woman a safe place for her children and an

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate appears to be unable to overturn President Ford's veto of a crucial energy bill, assuring higher prices for fuel, food and most manufactured goods.

Failing to pick up the votes of three or four eastern Republicans, the Senate's Democratic majority virtually threw in the towel even before Ford on Tuesday announced his long-expected veto of a bill extending controls on oil prices for six months.

Thus, it appeared Ford loyalists and oil-state senators would have about 36 votes—two more than needed to sustain the veto today.

The next step by the Ford administration would be to ask Congress for a 45-day extension of price controls. During that period, Congress would be expected to adopt a gradual phase-out of controls along the lines of the 39-month proposal offered by Ford.

The end result of such a move would be that U.S. oil prices would rise to the level set by the oil-exporting nations, currently about $13.50 a barrel. U.S. oil now sells for an average of $9.50.

All sides agree that such an increase in oil prices would raise the price of gasoline, food, clothing and most other goods. But since the energy battle between Congress and the White House began eight months ago, there has been little agreement on the size of the increases.

The Library of Congress has estimated Ford's plan to end price controls on oil would mean an increase of up to 15 cents in the price of a gallon of gasoline, raise the cost of living by nearly 2 per cent and throw 600,000 Americans out of jobs.

The Ford administration predicts that gasoline prices will rise no more than 6 cents a gallon, and inflation will increase by .8 per cent. The Agriculture Department calculates that retail food prices would rise by about .7 per cent over the next 27 months because of decontrol.

Almost immediately after Ford announced his veto of the six-month price-control bill, the debate resumed

in Congress.

"If the veto is not upheld, the nation is not likely to have a comprehensive energy policy for a couple of more years," said Sen. J. Glenn Beall Jr., R-Md.

Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., called the veto inflationary and "a terrible act of irresponsibility on the part of the President."

"To sustain the veto is to chance a return to the destructive cycle of higher prices and fewer jobs," said Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., who planned to vote with Ford. "To override the veto is to fall asleep in the eye of a storm and ignore the immediate energy crisis."

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said the veto destroyed the Ford administration's credibility in its battle against inflation and recession. "By this one stroke of the pen, the President has aimed a $40-billion energy shock at the American economy, a shock the economy cannot afford to suffer."

Concern Behind Food Boosts?

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer

Higher food prices resulting from U.S. grain sales to Russia are caused by controversy and concern over the deals and not by any threat to American supplies.

The problem is words, not wheat. U.S. farmers are producing three times as much wheat as the country will use this year. U.S. firms have sold the Russians only one-third of the wheat that is expected to be left over at the end of the year after domestic consumption and regular exports.

The controversy eased a bit Tuesday when AFL-CIO President George Meany, acting after a meeting with President Ford, told dock workers to resume loading Soviet-bound grain voluntarily.

Ford told Meany he could make no promises about what would happen to food prices. But he extended until mid-October a moratorium on new grain sales to Russia and said he would try to work out a long-term agreement to minimize the impact of any future sales.

An AFL-CIO spokesman said the boycott suspension was for one month only, pending further developments. The controversy continues.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates the 1975 wheat crop at a record 58.3 million metric tons. Added to stockpiles, that gives the nation a total supply of 67 million metric tons.

Only 19.4 million metric tons of wheat will be used at home; 34 million metric tons will be exported to countries other than Russia. That leaves almost 13.6 million metric tons. Thus far this year, U.S. firms have sold the Russians about one-third of that 13.6 million metric tons, leaving just over nine million metric tons for storage in grain silos across the country.

If supplies are adequate, why are prices going up?

One reason is that people still remember what happened after the 1972 grain sales to the Soviet Union. The traditionally large American stockpiles were almost depleted; wheat prices quadrupled, from $1.32 a bushel in July 1972 to $5.29 in January 1974; food prices went up almost 30 per cent in two years and the grain sales shared the blame with rising energy costs and government price controls that disrupted production cycles.

There are several differences between the situation now and in 1972:

—U.S. firms have sold the Soviets less corn and wheat this year — a little more than nine million metric tons compared with about 18 million metric tons in 1972.

—There is more grain available for export to Russia. The 1972 sales represented 99 per cent of the U.S. wheat carryover — the amount left after domestic use and regular exports —in contrast to this year's 33 per cent.

—The world grain situation has improved from 1973 and 1974 when drought and famine in developing countries increased demand for wheat and corn from U.S. stockpiles — stockpiles that had been depleted by the 1972 Russian sale.

Nonetheless, fear of a potential shortage can drive up prices just as surely as a shortage itself. Warnings can turn anticipation into reality. That is what has happened this year.

FUND DRIVE UNDERWAY—Kenny Speakman, right, PCCF Chairman and John Fanale, left, Vice Chairman, stand ready for today's kickoff of the 1975-76 Pickaway County Community Fund Drive. After months of preparation, the committee is prepared to watch the thermometer rise as volunteers canvass the county for donations. The $94,000 campaign will run for six weeks to Oct. 31.

Community Fund Campaign Began 20 Years Ago

The Pickaway County Community Fund was begun 20 years ago raising $26,650 for the five participating agencies—Youth Canteen, Pickaway Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Salvation Army.

George Roth was the first president, a position he held for two years, and Dr. G. D. Phillips was the first campaign chairman.

Over the years, the Community Fund budget has increased, until the 1975 goal is $94,000, and the number of agencies has increased to 11. The Youth Canteen was discontinued a number of years ago.

The agencies that have been added are Well Child Clinic, Mental Health Assn., Senior Citizens Center, Family Planning, pre-Natal Clinic and Volunteers for Youth. The latter was added just this year.

Succeeding Dr. Phillips as campaign chairman in 1956 was E. G. Grigg, who moved up to president the following year. Although the advancement of the campaign chairman to president is almost an automatic step now, this was not the case in the early years of the fund. Presidents who served more than one year in addition to Roth were Larry Varble and Robert L. Burton.

Here is the complete list of officers of the campaign and the amounts raised each year since its inception (the president is listed first and the campaign chairman second):

1955-56, George Roth, Dr. G. D. Phillips, $26,650; 1956-57, George Roth, E. G. Grigg, $23,163; 1957-58, Ed Grigg, Mr. & Mrs. Karl Mason, $29,517; 1958-59, B. B. Deffenbaugh, Larry Varble, $29,800; 1959-60, Larry Varble, Robert Burton, Earl Palm, $33,288; 1963-64, Donald Flierl, Joe Bartz, $33,000; 1964-65, Earl Palm, James Wilson, $38,503; 1965-66, James Wilson, Dan Crabtree, $42,500; 1966-67, Robert M. Johnson, Fritz Jacobs, $48,000; 1967-68, Fritz Jacobs, Ben Brian, $52,381; 1968-69, Ben Brian, Bill Champion, $54,463; 1969-70, Bill Champion, Tom Elsea, $63,365; 1970-71, Tom Elsea, Dr. Robert Liggett, $61,238; 1971-72, Dr. Robert Liggett, William Bills, $79,267; 1972-73, William Bills, George Haney, $80,818; 1973-74, George Haney, Robert Ogden, $79,470; 1974-75, Robert Ogden, Dr. James River, $87,000; 1975-76, Dr. James River, Kenneth Speakman.

School Veto Override Seen Certain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is considered certain to join the House in voting to override President Ford's veto of a $7.9-billion education appropriations bill.

If today's vote goes as expected, it would be the second time this session a bill had been enacted over Ford's veto. He has vetoed 10 measures.

The House tally on Tuesday was a lopsided 379 to 41, or 99 more votes than the needed two-thirds. Senate managers of the bill predicted a similar margin in their branch.

The measure exceeds Ford's request by $1.5 billion.

But members of the newly created House and Senate Budget committees disputed the President's contention that it is a budget-buster.

They said the measure would produce less spending in the current fiscal year, which began July 1, than Congress allowed last May in the congressional budget.

Ford, in submitting his $6.4-billion appropriations bill, estimated that $1.3 billion of this would be spent in 1976. The rest would produce outlays in future years.

Leaders of the budget committees said the $7.5 billion as it was sent to the President would yield $1.7 billion of spending in the current year. But they emphasized that, in the congressional budget, allowance was made for $2.2 billion of education outlays.

In adopting its budget, Congress fixed spending targets well above the President's proposals for education, health and some other domestic social programs.

But it promised to make up most of the deficits by cutting the military money bill and foreign aid.

The education bill contains $414 million more than Ford's request for aid to school districts with large numbers of children of federal employees. It also contains $368 million more for college student aid than he proposed.

It also exceeds his budget on aid to children of disadvantaged parents, which is the largest single federal aid to education program; on aid for libraries, on education for the handicapped, and on vocational education.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks fell sharply again today amid disappointment over Tuesday's poor showing by the market and talk of some possible new increases in the bank prime lending rate.

National Semiconductor was the most active issue on the Big Board, down 3/4 at 32 3/4. A 40,000-share block traded at 32 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index dropped .58 to 84.51.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks fell .39 to 44.61.

Deputies Investigate Thefts

Pickaway County Sheriff's Authorities investigated three reports of theft in the county.

John Secrest, Route 1, Lockbourne, told Deputy Larry Kellenberger, that thieves forced their way into his car removing a citizens band radio sometime between Monday and Tuesday.

The thieves apparently used a coat-hanger to unlock the driver's door.

The radio was valued at $200.

Traps and stretchers, valued at $141.50 were removed by thieves from a building at the rear of the Roger M. Diltz residence, 1105 S. Washington St., between Monday and Tuesday.

A door lock was broken to gain entry to the building.

Thieves took tools from a shop building located on the property of John Strawser, Route 1, occurring Monday or Tuesday.

The thieves were able to gain entry through an unlocked sliding door taking the tools valued at $313.99.

Deputy J. Phillip Brown investigated the two thefts.

3 Appear In Common Pleas Court

Three men appeared this morning in the mid-week session of Pickaway County Common Pleas Court. Judge William Ammer sentenced one man to a prison term and released another from jail under the provisions of the shock probation statute.

Kenneth Valentine, was originally sentenced on charges of aggravated burglary and grand theft. Judge Ammer ordered the man released and placed him on probation for three years.

A term of six months to five years in the Ohio Penitentiary was sentenced to Milton Zickafosse. Zickafosse had pleaded guilty previously to a charge of grand theft at Buckeye Mart.

A final case on today's docket was Gerald Dozier who was indicted Friday by the grand jury for aggravated assault. He pleaded guilty to the offense and the court ordered a pre-sentence report to be prepared by the Adult Parole Authority.

State Job Layoffs Still Rising

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-four investigators will be laid off by the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation later this month as the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes continues to chip away at the state payroll.

More than 1,100 state employees have been laid off since Rhodes took office last January. The governor ordered a 2 per cent cutback in all departments last July to compensate for a state budget which he said was underfunded.

"These layoffs are due directly to the failure of the General Assembly to simply meet the Bureau's continuation payroll," BWC Deputy Administrator Philip A. Workman said in a statement Tuesday.

The Democratic-controlled legislature, which returns to begin a special session today, is expected to fuel the growing dispute. Legislative leaders say they will ask for the appointment of a select committee to investigate the hiring and firing practices of the Rhodes administration.

The Department of Natural Resources laid off 167 employees last week and the Commerce Department dropped 27 workers, cutting its Consumer Protection Division in half.

Veterans Day Change Nears

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal observance of Veterans Day will return to the traditional Nov. 11 date if President Ford signs legislation that has cleared Congress.

The House voted Tuesday, 410 to 6, to change the holiday back to the date on which it had been observed for 50 years before Congress in 1968 moved several holidays to Mondays to provide long weekends.

The Senate already had passed the bill. Ford must now sign it for it to become law.

Receiving 13.5 per cent of the total goal is the Boy Scouts of America.

Serving 450 boys in the Pickaway District, it is the purpose of the Boy Scouts to provide an effective program designed to build desirable qualities of character, to train in the responsibilities of participating citizenship and to develop in them personal fitness.

In addition, 901 residents of Orient State Institute received the Scouting program in 56 units. They are being administered by a separate division for Scouting for the handicapped within the Central Ohio Council.

Also, 29 young adults, both men and women, were members of a law enforcement Explorer post sponsored by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

In 1975 the Pickaway District will expand with the addition of several new units throughout the county.

Girl Scouts of America will receive 12 per cent of the $94,000.

The county's two Service Units serves 821 girls, ages seven through 17, through an informal educational program in which girls are inspired with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service that they may become happy and resourceful citizens.

The Pickaway County Girl Scouts belong to the Seal of Ohio Council which furnishes the professional help necessary for carrying out the program of a national and international organization with all its opportunities.

Troops are active in Circleville, Ashville, South Bloomfield, Williamsport, Commercial Point and Jefferson Addition.

During 1974, the Salvation Army, which receives 7.4 per cent of the total, provided gifts of food or clothing at Christmas to 10 needy families; sponsored 25 underprivileged children to the Salvation Army Camp Swoneky; provided stranded travelers with food, lodging and helped with transportation; provided furniture and help with housing to needy families and supported the State Salvation Army which maintains various hospitals for unwed mothers, alcoholics and indigent people.

The function of the Well Child Clinic, receiving 3.2 per cent of the goal, is to provide health care for pre-school children of families in Pickaway County who are unable to provide such care.

The clinic also counsels the mothers of these children in general family nutrition. In 604 clinic visits, 1144 persons were provided the services of the Well Child Clinic.

Associated with the State Association, the Mental Health Association receives 2.7 per cent of the goal.

The MHA provides programs, open to the public, on such topics as drug use and abuse, Scioto-Paint Valley Guidance Center, Orient State Institute, and various aspects of mental health and retardation.

Senior Citizens Center is allotted 2.7 per cent of the Community Fund goal.

Serving 530 members as well as others of all ages in the Pickaway County, the Senior Citizens Center operates five-eight hour days per week planning and carrying-out recreational, social, education activities, and health services.

The Center also provides free facilities for Social Security representatives. The County Commissioners also arranged for the Senior Citizens to provide and prepare over two acres of land for garden space.

The Center staff consists of the Director, program coordinator, homemaker, all full-time and two part-time workers which include a 12-hour per week bookkeeper and an eight hour per week janitor.

The Family Planning Association, receiving 2.1 per cent of the total, provided information and education regarding family planning and birth control so that the health and integrity of the family unit can be maintained.

The clinic utilizes many volunteers and some paid professionals. Four local doctors rotate their services along with two other nurses and several workers at each session held every Monday night at Berger Hospital.

A total of 226 patients were involved in the clinic in 1974.

Receiving nine-tenths of one per cent of the amount, the Pre-Natal Clinic is sponsored by the Circleville Child Conservation League, providing free pre-natal care for the women unable to afford these services.

Services were rendered to 95 patients during 1974. The clinics are held throughout the year on the first and third Wednesday of each month.

The 11th and 1975 addition to Community Fund is the Volunteers For Youth.

Receiving 1.2 per cent of the total, VFY is one of over 2,000 organizations across the nation which provide free assistance to courts to help alleviate overburdened probation case loads and provide more effective rehabilitative services to the offender.

Organized locally in 1973 by Mrs. Thomas Downing, VFY works through the Pickaway County Juvenile Court to provide probationers with a one-to-one relationship with an adult volunteer.

The probationers meet once a week for approximately three hours with a volunteer rather than once a month for 10-20 minutes with the regular officer.

A weekly report of the Drive will be provided county residents so that they may watch the need be met.

A-C Board Completes Staffing

The Amanda-Clearcreek Board of Education hired two teachers and several non-certificated staff members at its regular board meeting Monday. The resignations of teachers James Wright and Sarah Dresler were accepted.

Employed as teachers were Mary J. Voss and Irene June Klayman. Kay A. Helm was employed as a DPPF aide and Judith Miller as school health nurse.

Substitute bus drivers employed at the meeting were Bruce Ebert, Evelyn Boyd, Rober Cusinger, Novella Drake, Leewood Rhymer.

The board also accepted the resignation of Sheryl Arnold as junior high cheerleader advisor.

Permission was granted to James Flanagan, guidance counselor for the district, to attend a guidance clinic in Columbus on Sept. 26, and 27.

The board also passed a resolution commending the students of the high school for the work they did this year on the building. The students have been painting and beautifying the inside and outside of the building.

Another resolution giving free passes to all A-C activities to the senior citizens of the school district, 65 or older, was approved by the board.

In final action, the board gave permission to the band boosters to hold a square dance on Sept. 13 at the high school building.

The meeting was adjourned until Sept. 22, at 8 p.m.

24 Millionaires Didn't Pay Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-four American millionaires managed to avoid paying a penny in federal taxes in one recent year, according to Internal Revenue Service data released by a member of Congress.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, said in a House speech Tuesday that seven of the millionaires had a total adjusted gross income of $17,783,008, an average of $2.54 million per person.

"There were also 17 (other) millionaires who avoided any tax after calculating their tax deductions and credits," according to IRS information for 1973, Vanik said. He did not identify the millionaires or explain the tactics they had used.

In addition, there were "54 individuals with adjusted gross incomes of between $500,000 and $1 million who paid no federal income tax and 292 individuals with adjusted gross income of between $200,000 and $500,000 who paid no individual income tax."

Vanik, a member of the taxwriting Ways and Means Committee, also said that 15 major oil companies paid foreign governments about eight times as much tax as they did to the United States in 1974.

He said "it is appalling to note" that the companies listed payments of $9,554,112,000 to foreign countries, but only a reported $1,309,136,000 in U.S. federal income taxes.

Vanik identified the 15 oil companies as Occidental, Texaco, Mobil, Gulf, Atlantic Richfield, Standard of Ohio, Getty, Ashland, Standard of California, Standard of Indiana, Union of California, Sun, Phillips, Continental and Cities Service.

He said two other firms, Exxon and

Shell, were omitted from the survey "because information provided to the SEC (Securities Exchange Commission) made computations impossible."

Vanik spoke as the Ways and Means Committee moved Tuesday to end farm tax shelters used by wealthy city dwellers to virtually escape paying taxes.

The panel voted 23 to 10 to end such benefits, under which the wealthy use packaged investments in cattle breeding and feeding, tree crops, vegetable and field crops and other farm items to build up accounting losses that they can apply against their tax liability.

Committee tax specialists estimated that elimination of this device could bring $110 million more in taxes to the government next year.

The committee, however, moved to give a small tax break to those persons whose only investment in farming is a home vegetable garden. It agreed by voice vote on a plan to allow a $7 tax credit for any taxpayer buying up to $100 worth of gardening tools.

has come under fire during the last few years from farmers who believe the reports are inaccurate, cause extreme fluctuations in the commodity markets and enable speculators to depress farm prices. In addition, many farmers believe the reports are leaked to outside sources before they're released to the public according to C. William Swank, executive vice president of the Farm Bureau.

Williamsport News

By EILEEN EASTERDAY, Phone 986-3481

The excitement is all over town with young and old alike waiting for the Thursday evening opening of the fifth annual Williamsport Festival.

And to the many questions I have had about what kind of soup the women of the United Methodist Church will be serving, I can only tell you that I have been assured there will be the chicken noodle soup the women were so famous for at the Pumpkin Show for so many years. They no longer operate a concession booth at the show.

They plan to serve another variety or two so don't miss stopping by the soup kitchen which will be located inside the Pavilion.

For a sandwich to go along with the soup the firemen will be frying fish as usual at their stand in the firehouse located just by the Pavilion. The Boosters will have a variety of sandwiches as well as other booths along the midway. For dessert what could be better than a piece of homemade pie from members of the Sorosis Club?

After having eaten your fill and the need to sit down for a spell comes over you why just drop by the Legion area and play a few games of Bingo. On the other hand if you feel frisky and lively then ride the amusement rides where with a coupon you can have six rides for only a dollar. Don't say that isn't a bargain!

With all the hectic pace of getting ready for our festival there is still time for card clubs so last Tuesday evening it was euchre club at the home of Betty Clifton where for two months a-running that Eggie Hayes took home the most loner prize. Dolly Thompson won high score and Dot Burris got low. Floating loner was all over the place but if memory serves me right it went home with Janet Clifton.

This Tuesday evening was canasta club at the home of Esther Picklesimer. Prize winners were Jeanine Hamman (subbing for Pearl Cochenour) high; Colleen Justice, traveling; Mary Alice Greenwood (subbing for Margene Looney) door; and the hostess got low. Also playing were Jackie Hopper, Mae Litter, Dorothy Carle and yours truly who was remembered by her secret sister with a birthday gift and an anniversary gift. Super! super!

Birthday time this year has really been a fantastic event for this gal. Received a lot of goodies from the family with probably my new bowling ball and bag topping the list. Friday evening at the Valley House seafood buffet with Mary Alice Greenwood picking up the tab and the management gifting me with a clever cleaver was really neat, too.

Don and Dorothy Coates filled the other two chairs at our table. Also had the pleasure of meeting the Fred Howells and the Forrest Thomasons who were enjoying the edibles from the sea. Fact is, there were a number of Pickaway Countians partaking of the delectable cuisine. Most were going on to the CHS vs CHS football game (translated that means Circleville High School versus Chillicothe High School).

Demos Vie For Mayor

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Two Democrats, incumbent Harry Kessler and unindorsed candidate Pamela Daoust, will face each other in Toledo's mayoral election next November.

Local Republicans were left without a candidate when Gerald Trepinski finished third in the five-person municipal primary election Tuesday.

The final unofficial count gave Kessler 24,555 votes, Daoust 21,750 and Trepinski 17,493.

If elected, Mrs. Daoust, a member of the city council, would be Toledo's first woman mayor.

Voters also nominated 16 of 21 city council candidates.

Defeated was a $39.5 million bond issue for enlargement of the Toledo waste water treatment plant. The unofficial count was 23,015 votes for the issue and 35,752 against.

Findlay Firemen Won't Be Fired

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Findlay Service-Safety Director Maxene Radabaugh said Tuesday she has dropped plans to have 20 Findlay firemen fired for taking part in a weekend strike.

However, she said the 20 would be suspended for one day each as a disciplinary measure. Since Findlay firemen work 24 hours on and two days off, the suspension will cost them about one-half week's pay.

Famed traveler and commentator Lowell Thomas was born in 1892 in Woodington, Darke County, Ohio.

Sunday evening the local September birthday trio which consists of Greenwood, Edna Newhouse and myself gathered for our traditional birthday dinner at my domicile. Later we were joined by Jeanine Hamman for a jolly foursome at the card table with canasta being the game.

Pearl Cochenour stopped by for a brief chat and to express the family's gratitude for all the lovely cards sent to Grandma B. (Agnes Brayshaw). Our sweet beloved Grandma B. is gravely ill at Berger Hospital. Pearl wanted everyone to know how much the cards meant to Grandma B.

Herschel and Mae Litter went galavantin' for a few days last week. First of all they were in Oak Hill, W. Va. and spent time with Uncle Lacey and Aunt Muri Sanger where they were treated to some real old fashioned type home cookin'. Next they went to Charleston, W. Va. for a few days with Mae's brother David Daily and his family.

During the weekend they had granddaughter Julie Litter of Londonderry while Julie's parents, Eddie and Peggy Litter, drove over to Arlington, Va. They were taking granddaughter Shana Jo Stacy, who is all of four-weeks-old over to be with her parents, Mike and Tammy Litter Stacy. Mike is in the service and newly located at Arlington. The young couple were home hunting and getting established while Shana Jo stayed here with her grandparents.

Mary Ann Litter of our town and Dolly Trego of Londonderry accompanied Martha "Kate" Russell of our village to Salyersville, Ky. over the weekend for a visit with the Don Russell family. Rita and Pete Russell enjoyed the trip, too. Tina Russell stayed with grandparents Herschel and Mae Litter and kept cousin Julie Litter company.

The Picklesimers, Charlie, Esther and Faith Ann were at The Plains home of Dave and Janet Lovett and T. D. for Sunday dinner. The Lovetts celebrated their 11th anniversary on Saturday. Esther will be back down there this Friday to bring young T. D. up for the bigger and better festival. The senior??? Lovetts will drive up later in the weekend for the shindig.

Be with you again next week, be the Lord willing. Take care.

Think About: What else but our super neat festival with its tremendous parades, rodeo, fish fry, bingo, soup, good food and six rides for one dollar.

1,300 Attend 27th GE Picnic

Over 1300 General Electric employees and guests enjoyed exclusive use of Columbus Zoo Amusement Park on Saturday, Sept. 6, according to E. G. Grigg, plant manager. This was the plant's 27th consecutive picnic since it began operations in Circleville.

The picnic was climaxed by the drawings for GE small appliances. Grand prizes were the winner's choice of one of four GE products, including a clothes dryer, mobile dishwasher, portable TV, or room air conditioner. The grand prizes were won by Nancy Speakman and Dorothy Thompson.

Symptoms Of National Malaise

The outbreak of violence in Louisville and Boston over school desegregation and busing of pupils is a symptom of deeper national ills.

In both cities, the courts have ruled the schools must eliminate any traces of segregation. Regrettably, the violent reaction to these orders has been aimed at the wrong people, those who must uphold the law.

Racial balance is a tough

issue. It has been made worse by sloppily-written laws and, in some cases, by high-handed judges.

But, deeper than the racial issue is that of loss of local control. The big-brotherism of the Congress and the federal judiciary has seriously eroded the individual's right to shape his own destiny.

It would seem to observers that much of the violence can be laid to frustration on the part of this nation's citizens who see constant infringement of their rights.

Despite all the talk of returning government to the people, the trend has been, and remains, in the other direction.

Perhaps a move should be made for shorter and shorter sessions of governing bodies on all levels. At least this would keep them from passing more and more laws.

Water, Sewer Rate Hike Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus City Council Monday night approved a five-year water and sewer rate increase package that would increase the price of bills to the city's water users 61 per cent and sewer users 126 per cent by 1980.

The first step of the plan, increasing water rates 10 per cent and sewer rates 35 per cent, will take effect in January. The increase will pay for water and sewer improvements.

"Who does your signs?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Our five-year-old daughter is the tyrant of the house. She knows she is cute and plays my husband against me, and me against my husband. How can we control her?

Mr. and Mrs. M. F., Mich.
Dear Mr. and Mrs. F.:

Children know when they have the upper hand in a family.

They also know when their parents are terrorized by them and when they can dominate the other children in the family.

Infants and young children have antennae with a built-in radar system that tells them when there are conflicting attitudes in the parents.

They must, at a very early age, be made aware that there is a single, unified attitude towards them. Parents must speak out and come to a conclusion about the way a problem should be handled.

If your child is a "tyrant" it is probably because you have permitted yourselves to be tyrannized by her.

You must both be consistent, not only in the love you give your child, but in the limits you set for her. Establish reasonable limits and insist that they be respected.

Cambodia Gives Own Version Of Seizure Of Mayaguez

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials say the American case for taking military action in the Mayaguez ship seizure four months ago has been strengthened by the first official account of that event by the Cambodian government.

The officials noted that the rescue operation began more than 52 hours after the White House first publicly demanded the release of the vessel.

But the Cambodian account of the incident, given in a New York speech Saturday night by Deputy Premier and Foreign Minister Ieng Sary, suggested that Cambodia had decided to free the vessel 39 hours after the Ford administration had made known its demands.

For reasons Ieng Sary did not disclose the Cambodian government waited 13 hours before announcing its intentions. By that time, the American rescue operation was under way.

The White House announcement of the seizure came on Monday afternoon, May 12, and Ieng Sary said the Cambodian government first learned of the incident from an American radio broadcast monitored in Phnom Penh. This indicated that the decision to seize the vessel was made by a local commander, not by the central government.

Ieng Sary said the commander was promptly ordered to travel to Phnom Penh to explain the seizure. "He informed us of this affair and around 5 p.m. we ordered him back with the order to release the Mayaguez ship immediately," the minister said.

He did not give the date but American officials said he apparently meant 5 p.m. Wednesday (6 a.m. Washington time the same day).

The U.S. assault began at about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday as American forces stormed an offshore island and bombed an airfield on the Cambodian mainland. It was shortly after 7 p.m. that Cambodia announced its willingness to release the vessel.

"By that time it was too late," a U.S. official said, adding that the rescue operation would have been unnecessary if Cambodia "only had announced earlier the decision it had long since made privately."

He said the State Department received no communications from Cambodia during the 52 hours suggesting the possibility of a diplomatic solution.

The 39-man Mayaguez crew was rescued but 15 American soldiers were killed and more than 50 others wounded. In addition, 23 U.S. servicemen were killed in Thailand as they were being transported by helicopter from one air base to another for possible use in the rescue operation.

Corn harvesting is underway in southern Indiana, nearly one week ahead of the average.

Agriculture specialists at Purdue University said Monday 25 per cent of the Indiana corn crop is mature and safe from frost. They said less than 10 per cent of the corn was mature at this time last year.

They said 85 per cent of the corn has denting but some lateplanted fields still were in the dough stage at the end of last week.

Purdue said 60 per cent of the soybean crop is now yellowing and 20 per cent is shedding leaves. A few fields have been combined.

Remarkable Men

By JIM BISHOP

There are success stories which give hope to the flagging heart. None, I suspect, will match the true-life book just completed by Bob Considine. It is called "The Remarkable Life of Dr. Armand Hammer." What is remarkable is that the busiest man in America managed to find time for the busiest writer in America. And vice versa.

Bob Considine is the decathlon champion of authors. He does well with sports, biography, history, politics, military affairs, religion, crime, short stories, newspaper columns and topical magazine articles. It's easier to like him than to compete with him.

Dr. Armand Hammer, on the other hand, has, in his 78th year, cut his work day to 16 hours. He was born on the Lower East Side of New York where the pushcart peddlers sold colored ice for a penny. And few children could afford it.

He was a teen-age undergraduate at Columbia University when he put the world on notice that it would someday have to deal with him. He took over a pharmaceutical house called Good Laboratories and made a million. Today it's called Allied Chemical.

And yet he found time to get his doctorate. He also found time to study piano, date girls and learn international politics. He's an oil baron, a banker, a broker, counsel to several governments.

That's Dr. Hammer's morning life. In the afternoon, he is a tycoon in the fields of network radio, whiskey, coal, cattle, art and oil. As an afterthought, he is chairman of the world-renowned art gallery, Knoedler's. He is the friend of presidents, prime ministers and kings.

In a burst of generosity Hammer gave a $1 million Goya painting to Leningrad's Hermitage. He gave his personal collection of paintings — $25 million worth — to the Los Angeles County Museum and National Gallery. Never, within my ken, has a man traveled so far so fast.

For creature comfort Hammer has three Rolls Royces, a big private jet plane, homes in Los Angeles and New York, in addition to private apartments in Moscow and London. And yet money isn't the story. Considine found it in Dr. Hammer's zest for battle "tomorrow."

The doctor has a $2 billion contract with the Soviet Union for fertilizer, but that isn't the heart of the book. To my way of thinking, it occurred last year. Hammer is the top officer and stockholder of Occidental Petroleum.

In 1956, the stock was selling for 18 cents. Occidental was so poor that it needed $50,000 to drill two wells. Hammer lent the money. The two wells — impossible! — were gushers. Within a few weeks, the magic doctor owned half of Occidental.

In the manner of most of Hammer's projects, Occidental grew bigger and bigger. Last October, John H. Swearingin, board chairman of Standard Oil of Indiana, sat across a desk from Hammer.

Swearingin proposed that Standard Oil buy Occidental. It was selling at $14 a share. Swearingin offered $17. Standard (sixth-largest) told Occidental (11th-largest) that together they would move into the top 10 of world corporations with annual sales of $17 billion.

Hammer heard the man out. By saying yes, he would realize a profit of $21 million and have no further headaches. The doctor said no. He doesn't like to be bargained, raided or threatened.

Few men are so quick, or so loud, to alert the President, the Congress and the press to what Hammer sees as a danger. Within a few weeks, he was testifying before a Senate committee.

Instead of speaking of his own enrichment, Hammer said: "The freedom and independence of Occidental Petroleum is at stake. This is a matter of vital importance to our 300,000 shareholders, our 32,000 employees and to the many companies, large and small, with whom we deal in the free marketplace." Occidental was not devoured by anyone.

The immeasurable greatness of this country is not in its streams, its timberland, its mines or its farms. It is in the sons and daughters of immigrants who aspire to leave the ghetto and move into a mansion a few blocks away. The new frontiers are in a boy's mind.

Of the two men, I would say Armand Hammer is the luckier. He persuaded Bob Considine to write his book.

Retail Sales Up Slightly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Retail sales in Ohio climbed five per cent in July after figures were adjusted to account for seasonal highs, the Center for Business Research at Ohio State University said today.

Without the adjustment, the increase was only one per cent. The center said it adjusts the raw data by figuring out normal seasonal increases in the retail business.

The adjusted five per cent increase was the same as the sales decline from May to June.

July sales were a fraction ahead of those of July 1974 while sales for the first seven months of 1975 compared to the same period a year ago were up two per cent, the center said.

Paint, glass and wallpaper stores showed the largest gain in the 25 business lines covered by the study. They were up 44 per cent.

They were followed by florists, up 31 per cent; family clothing stores, up 23 per cent; and motor vehicle dealers, up 10 per cent.

Battle Of Britain Pilot Ends Era

WATTISHAM, England (AP) — "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few," said Winston Churchill of the fighter pilots who saved Britain in the summer of 1940.

Today the last Battle of Britain pilot in the Royal Air Force retired. He was Flight Lieut. Douglas Hone, 57, the fighter controller at Wattisham Air Base. For his last parade the RAF brought a Battle-of-Britain Spitfire out of retirement so fellow officers could tow him in it.

In the Battle of Britain, Hone shot down one bomber, shared another and was credited with three probables. He went on to reconnaissance fighter-bombing over Europe and was shot down three times.

Coliseum Inaugurated

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A capacity throng of 17,000 rock concert goers inaugurated Cincinnati's new $20 million Riverfront Coliseum Tuesday night, flocking to see the Allman Brothers rock and roll band.

The just-completed arena will be the home of the Cincinnati Stingers of the World Hockey Association beginning next year. The Kentucky Colonels, defending champions of the American Basketball Association, are under contract to play 17 games a year, including playoffs, for the next 10 years.

Police reported no major outbursts during the concert. Ushers said the major complaint was gate-crashers.

The arena is located adjacent to Riverfront Stadium, only a five minute walk from the downtown area.

The rock concert will be followed by three rodeo performances this weekend. Promoters are predicting crowds of 15,000 for each session, which would rank among the largest indoor crowds ever to watch rodeo.

Water Short For School

CARDINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Cardington schools will remain closed another four or five days because of a water shortage brought about when pressure dropped at the community's six shallow wells.

William Hack, sanitarian for the Morrow County Health Department, said a new well was undergoing test pumping and "looks promising." He said it would be a few days before it could be put into production.

Adding to the problems was a malfunction on a main line pump that left the community virtually without water.

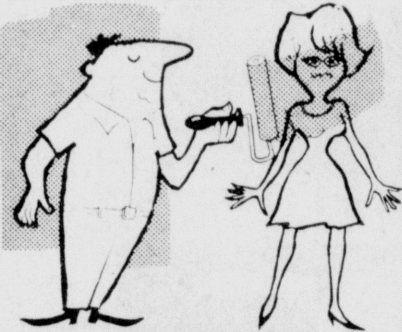

Hack said maintenance is continuing on the supply system and the community is looking for other sources of water outside its boundaries to avoid shortages in the future.

About 1,300 students around Cardington are out of school because of the shortage. Cardington is a village of 1,800, six miles south of the county seat, Mount Gilead.

Americans Cut Vacation Spending

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer

Americans refused to let inflation cancel summer vacations this year, but they stayed closer to home, spent time in one place rather than traveling around and searched for bargains at hotels and restaurants.

An Associated Press survey of major tourist areas showed the number of visitors in every area was higher than it was in 1974 when the gasoline shortage cut sharply into summer motoring.

There was plenty of gasoline this year. The only problem was figuring out how to pay for the fuel, the lodgings, the food and the sightseeing that make up a vacation.

Michael Frucci, executive secretary of the Cape Cod Chamber of Commerce said 1975 "was a very good year." He said he expected statistics on over-all resort business to be up 12 per cent from 1974, making this year the best ever.

At the same time, some restaurants reported business was off.

"People are economy minded and are looking for less expensive places to eat or are bringing their own food," said one operator of a hotel with a restaurant. "Even at breakfast time, we found people eating less."

Florida officials said tourism business was up about 10 per cent from 1974. But they said that while the northern part of the state was doing well, the southern part, including Miami, was suffering.

"Tourists have tended to pull in their horns," said Hal Cohen of the Miami

Tourist Development Authority. "They're not traveling much more than 300 miles from their homes. This has worked to our disadvantage. North and Central Florida can still draw on tourists from other states."

The Automobile Club of Michigan said a comparison of 1974 and 1975 figures showed routing requests by state residents for Michigan only were up 11.5 per cent for the Upper Peninsula and 44.6 per cent for the Lower Peninsula, indicating people stayed in the state rather than take a long trip elsewhere.

The club said private campgrounds reported people were staying twice as long as they did last year and added that revenues were up for state parks, although no specifics were available.

Bob Ugucioni, a spokesman for the Pocono Mountains Tourist Bureau in Pennsylvania, said the area had 17 per cent more visitors this year than it did in 1974. People waited until the last minute, however, to make their reservations.

"It played havoc on hotel and motel operators who plan with advance reservations," Ugucioni said.

Tourists also spent less.

"Where the big expensive hotels are usually the first to fill up, this year the tourists took the less expensive hotel rooms," Ugucioni said. "Nice, but not the luxury ones."

'Wandering Wheels' Members Present Program For Meeting Of Child Development League

WANDERING WHEELS—Dwight Francis on the left, and John Stout, members of the bicycle riding organization, are shown with Mrs. Joe Rooney as they presented the program for the Tuesday meeting of Circleville Child Development League.

Circleville Child Development League held its first meeting of the season Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Wayne Lash, Route 2.

Members answered roll call by contributing an item of new clothing to be given to the children of the league's adopted family. Mrs. Wayne Lash, president, presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. Joe Rooney, program chairman, opened the meeting by reading a poem entitled "Turning Thirty." Mrs. Rooney also discussed highlights and changes in the coming year's program.

Plans were made for the club sponsored hearing clinic to be held at the Lutheran Church in Circleville October 10-11. The hours will be 9 a.m. until noon and 1 p.m. until 3 and Friday, and 9 a.m. until noon Saturday. The clinic is designed to test the hearing of any Pickaway County pre-school child 4 and 5 years of age.

Dwight Frazier, son of the Rev. and Mrs. David Frazier, and John Stout, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stout, were the guest speakers. Frazier and Stout, members of the "Wandering Wheels," a coast to coast riding team, took turns describing some of the adventures they encountered in a 39 day road trip pedalling over 3,000 miles from the Pacific to the Atlantic. The Wandering Wheels was founded by football coach, Bob Davenport, whose philosophy of getting the boys together for the bicycle tours is to "Grow Up

With God" in both mind and body by sharing their faith in Christ along the road.

Ann Morehart, a member of the Bicentennial Committee, said that Heritage Days is to be held September 20 and 21 and would be open to all interested persons. The traveling basket was won by Diane Walker.

Co-hostess, Mrs. Robert Parker, provided refreshments to 14 members and one guest. The next meeting will be October 6 at the home of Mrs. David Scheible, 681 Fairlawn Drive.

Service Organizations Told Of Projects To House Senior Citizens

SENIOR HOUSING—Tom E. R. Bennett, on the right, is shown with Robert Murtha, speaker for Pickaway County Service Organizations on Tuesday. He spoke of future plans for housing of senior citizens in Ohio.

Robert Murtha, president of Ohio Medical Management, was guest speaker for the Tuesday luncheon meeting of Pickaway County Service Organizations in the Parish Hall of St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

E. R. (Tom) Bennett, president of the board of directors of Brown Memorial Home and a board member of other nursing homes in the area, introduced Murtha who spoke of senior citizens and becoming a senior citizen.

Murtha said that in the near future people will be spending one-third of their lives in retirement or rather in the post-vocational part of life and would like to live creatively and effectively.

In the youth oriented culture today people do not know what to do about growing old. They prepare for death but fail to consider what happens in their old age as to where they will live and if necessary what nursing home facilities will be available.

According to Murtha housing for the elderly is being solved in many communities with the key being accessibility. The trend is to form communities where shopping, churches, places of entertainment and transportation are available. Many nursing homes have been built in isolated locations where there is little opportunity for residents to participate in social events.

Some of these homes are reminiscent of the former County Homes where segregation from society was the order. This seemed the solution to all problems for the elderly as the younger people didn't and still do not know how to communicate with older people in many instances.

The elderly are most independent and many live in larger homes where they have lived for many years and while still active are unable to keep up with maintenance requirements.

Housing for senior citizens is greatly needed in Pickaway County. The people need to be in touch with the contemporary world to stay alive.

Colleges offering courses for those in the upper age bracket are of great service. Those attending find they are free to participate in all campus activities including sports, library facilities, plays and all other events they enjoy.

These accommodations are the goal of future housing projects which are actually passing the planning stages and will be available in the not too distant future, Murtha said.

Vera Saunders conducted a brief business meeting and the following guests were introduced, Wanda Hamilton, Roger Wolfe, Carolyn Daub and Priscilla Steele.

Y Places Emphasis On Physical Fitness

Action is the by-word for the new Fall programming getting under way at the Pickaway County Family YMCA. Emphasis is being placed on physical fitness and both the programs and many of the new courses to be offered will be geared in that direction.

For men and women, the Y is now also able to offer the Physical Fitness Evaluation Test and Fitness Program.

The evaluation test will include blood pressure, resting heart rate, 3 minute step test, recovery heart rate, per cent fat, ideal weight consultation, body flexion test and muscular endurance test.

A class in weight lifting will be directed by Dean Glitt and John Smith and two classes in Karate are planned with David Watts or Dennis Sparks.

Women's exercise programs will be available on Monday and Wednesday evenings 9:15 to 10:15 or Tuesday and Thursday mornings, 10 to 11 a.m.

Aerobic Women's Exercises is available Wednesdays from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. and women's volleyball from 7:30 to 9 p.m. also on Wednesdays.

Girls Fitness is planned for 4 to 5 p.m. on Wednesday; Men's Fitness, 7 to 8 a.m. on Tuesday and Thursdays. The men's Brown Bag club meets every day from 12 noon to 1 p.m. with 15 minutes of structured exercise added free to members.

Boys Fitness and Tumbling classes will be held on Friday afternoons from 4 to 5 p.m.

Men's Open Gym is planned from 5 to 6 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday with a 15 minute exercise program preceding and Men's Volleyball will be from 9 to 10:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursdays.

Slim Living classes will also be offered this Fall and a new class is planned to be held in Ashville.

Come to the Y office to register for any of the classes or use the application in the new Fall brochure.

Hamilton Voters Reject Dam Levy

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Hamilton voters Tuesday overwhelmingly turned down a proposed 1.24-mill tax levy for construction of a $1.3 million low dam in the Great Miami River.

The issue was rejected by nearly a 2-1 margin, with 6,803 voting "no" and 3,522 voting for the levy. The issue needed an affirmative vote of 55 per cent for passage.

The levy passed in only four of the city's 36 precincts. If approved the levy would have run five years to finance construction of a low dam to maintain a pool of water in the river during dry periods.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Kin's Skin Show

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 72-year-old man. Two weeks ago when I went to my son's house, his wife greeted me at the door topless!

She said my son was not home, and she stood there smiling, then asked me to come in and have a cup of coffee. I didn't know what to do, so I just kept looking her in the face and told her I just remembered I had to meet a fellow in a few minutes. Then, I left fast.

I said nothing about this to my son or anybody else, but yesterday my son asked me to meet him at his house.

When I got there, his wife greeted me at the door with absolutely nothing on! I told her I left some tools in my car and then I got into my car and drove straight home.

Abby, I don't think I can ever look that girl in the face again. I hate to tell my son, but if his wife acts like this with me, I am afraid she acts this way with others.

Should I tell my son or just forget about it?

NAME WITHHELD

DEAR NAME: Tell your son. His wife is in need of psychiatric help and the sooner, the better.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were married eight months ago. When I mailed the wedding invitations to his relatives who all live out of state, I enclosed a little note inside which read, "Money would be the gift most appreciated."

The main reason I did it was to avoid duplications of gifts and to save them postage on the gift. I was only trying to do them a favor, but I got a lot of criticism for it.

Was that wrong? And if so, why?

MEANT WELL

DEAR MEANT: I think you were wrong. An invitation to a wedding should be just that—an "invitation." To express one's preference in a gift indicates that a gift is expected. And even more presumptuous is the request for money. A gift is a gift not an obligation.

DEAR ABBY: Stick to your guns. You are right.

Nowhere in the Bible does it say that Jesus had long hair.

However, your correspondent referred to Jesus as a Nazarene! He is wrong. A Nazarene was a member of a sect whose male members took a vow never to cut their hair, shave their beards, drink wine or touch a dead body.

Jesus was NOT a Nazarene—he was a Nazarene, which means he came from the city of Nazareth. Jesus drank wine, touched the dead, cut his hair and shaved his face. Just keeping the record straight in....

Glenn Promotes Natural Gas Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, introduced legislation Tuesday which he said could help alleviate the short-term natural gas crisis expected this winter.

The bill would allow a temporary, partial lifting of price controls on interstate gas pipelines serving distressed areas, earmark newly found gas from offshore wells to the gas-short states and empower the Federal Energy Administration to order electric power plants to convert to coal or fuel oil.

Glenn said that several bills have been introduced in the Congress to alleviate the long-term gas problem, but the short-term problem has not been faced.

Congregation Nixes Women On Staff

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP) — The congregation of Christ Church Episcopal, whose rector has repeatedly defied church law in allowing women priests to celebrate communion, has refused to invite two women priests to join the church staff.

The Rev. L. Peter Beebe, the rector of the Oberlin church, had asked the congregation to allow the women to join the staff, the same women he has allowed to celebrate communion at least ten times in defiance of a church court and his bishop.

The congregation deliberated 2½ hours until early today and voted 92-59 against the priest's request. But the congregation voted in favor of inviting the two irregularly ordained women priests to celebrate communion once a month provided that the Rev. Mr. Beebe and another male priest celebrate communion at another service.

The two women are the Rev. Alison Cheek of Annadale, Va. and the Rev. Carter Heyward of Cambridge, Mass.

In June a church court found the rector guilty of violating church law for permitting the same women to celebrate communion. Since then Bishop John H. Burt of the church's Diocese of Ohio has said the priest faces possible disciplinary action if he continues to violate church law.

The last time the women celebrated communion here was on Aug. 31.

After the congregation's action early Wednesday the Rev. Mr. Beebe said he is not sure about remaining as church rector. He has said that if Bishop Burt suspends him he would continue his priestly duties.

Although it disapproved employing the women for staff positions, the congregation issued a statement in favor of priesthood for women. The resolution reads, the Episcopal Church is "severely handicapped so long as it discriminates against women in the ministry."

The congregation meeting was closed to newsmen.

DON'T FORGET BREAKFAST
 Nobody forgets to eat dinner and most people eat at least a snack for lunch. But many people are breakfast skippers. Breakfast is an important meal. After eight to 10 hours without food, the body needs nourishment to avoid an early morning slump while at school or work. Nutritionists say that breakfast should provide one-fourth to one-third of the daily nutritional requirements. Breakfast in the past was a large, heavy meal designed to feed people involved in strenuous physical labor. Since many people today do less strenuous work and are more calorie conscious, breakfast should be a light yet satisfying meal. Many people skip breakfast because they are bored with the same old breakfast foods. Actually, any good food can be a part of breakfast. A bowl of hot soup, a grilled cheese sandwich, fruits and vegetables and even ice cream can be eaten at breakfast. The important thing is to plan a well-balanced meal. This breakfast roll recipe uses refrigerated crescent rolls, a feature in our dairy departments this week.

CINNAMON-PECAN ROLLS
 2/3 Cup Chopped Pecans
 1/2 Cup Powdered Sugar
 1/2 Cup Firmly Packed Brown Sugar
 1 Tsp. Cinnamon
 1/4 Cup Margarine, Softened (Butter Can Be Used)
 2 8-oz. Cans Of Refrigerated Crescent Rolls

GLAZE:
 1 Cup Powdered Sugar
 1 Tbsp. Butter Or Margarine Softened
 2 to 3 Tbsp. Milk

Preheat oven to 375 deg. F. In a small bowl, combine the first five ingredients. Separate one can of rolls into two large rectangles. Overlap long sides to form a 13x7-inch rectangle, firmly pressing edges and perforations to seal. Spread with pecan mixture. Separate second can of rolls into two rectangles. Place over first rectangle and press edges and perforations to seal. Cut into eight 13-inch strips. Twist, then form into a coil. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet or in a 13x9-inch pan 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. Combine glaze ingredients and drizzle over warm, baked rolls. Remove from pan. Serve warm. This recipe makes eight rolls.

Injuries Hurting Many NFL Clubs

National Football League owners may be paying four fewer salaries a year, but with players dropping right

Missouri Takes Jump In Grid Poll

By HERSHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer
The Missouri Tigers, unheralded in the preseason rankings, have climbed into fifth place in this week's Associated Press college football poll thanks to Monday night's nationally televised 20-7 upset of Alabama.

The stunning setback dropped the Crimson Tide, runnerup in the first 1975 poll, all the way to 13th.

Oklahoma's defending national champions held onto first place, although they don't open their season until Saturday. The Sooners received 51 firstplace votes and 1,108 points from a panel of 56 sports writers and broadcasters across the country.

Alabama's defeat allowed Michigan, Ohio State and Southern California to move up one spot each to second, third and fourth, respectively. Michigan received one first-place ballot and 918 points, Ohio State got three No. 1 votes and 787 points while Southern Cal earned 746 points. None of the three has played a game yet.

The remaining first-place vote went to Missouri and the Tigers' total of 579 points shot them all the way up to fifth place ahead of Nebraska, Auburn, Notre Dame, Texas A&M and Penn State, who round out the Top Ten. Missouri and Penn State are the only members of the first regular-season Top Ten to have seen action.

Pat Matson Shrugs Off Quick Trade

CINCINNATI (AP)—Offensive guard Pat Matson said he doesn't believe his union activity was a factor in the Cincinnati Bengals trading him to the Green Bay Packers.

If that were the case, said the muscular 10-year veteran, it would have been last year when he led the picket line in the National Football League Players Association strike.

"I wouldn't think that would be a factor now," said Matson, who said he was advised by the Packers he will move directly into a starting position for the game this week with the San Francisco 49ers.

Cincinnati apparently decided to use second year player Dave Lapham as one of Coach Paul Brown's messenger guards.

Matson was the last remaining member of the original Bengals franchise team formed in 1968. He came to Cincinnati from the Denver Broncos.

Matson said he would say nothing detrimental about the Bengals.

"I want people to remember the good things I did. I don't want them to say I was a sour apple."

The Matsons will keep their home in Cincinnati, however. Matson has two body building shops in the city.

"I'm selfish. I'd like to have as many players as possible for my team," says Coach Charlie Winner of the New York Jets. "Right now I've got 19 guys who are injured in one way or another."

"In practice today, I had only one running back—Steve Davis—who could run. So we had to walk through all our plays."

"I had only five defensive backs who could run and three wide receivers, so you can see that if we were going into a league game, we'd be in a difficult situation."

Most teams in the NFL are in the same rocky boat—playing with skeleton crews while the injured skeletons heal.

Miami Coach Don Shula was a member of the committee which cut rosters from 47 to 43 because of "the economics of the sport."

"I sat in when those rules were made. After they're made, you abide by them. You can't bend the rules to fit your own particular situation," said Shula.

That's not to say he wouldn't like to. Shula was brought to the painful decision of placing linebacker Nick Buoniconti and safety Dick Anderson on the injured reserve list, rendering them ineligible for the entire season because of the new roster rules. Previously, a player could be placed on injured reserve and brought back before the season ended.

No longer. "This year, he's gone for the season as far as you're concerned," says Winner. "That leaves you two choices: count him on the active roster and play short for a time, or put him on injured reserve. If you get people hurt at key positions, you're in trouble with rosters the way they are."

That means the New Orleans Saints are in trouble. Quarterback Archie Manning is out for a month with a chipped elbow. The New England Patriots are in trouble; quarterback Jim Plunkett underwent surgery Sunday for a shoulder separation and will be lost for six to eight weeks.

Likewise the Atlanta Falcons, without defensive end Claude Humphrey because of a knee injury; likewise Buffalo, which has lost defensive backs Tony Greene and Robert James.

"I'd like to see the 47-man roster restored," said Washington Redskins Coach George Allen. "Everybody now is finding out, with all the injuries that are occurring, how it hurts all the teams."

It appears too late to change now. "This was decided upon by the owners and it's 43, it's good enough for me," according to Buffalo Coach Lou Saban. There are those that would disagree.

Circleville Grid Tickets On Sale

Tickets for Circleville's game at Teays Valley Friday night, both student and adult, will go on sale from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday at Circleville High School.

Student tickets will also be on sale from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday at the junior high school.

Adult tickets only will be on sale at the gates.

County Grididders Set To Go In Friday Night Encounters

It will be kickoff time for all three county schools 8 p.m. Friday when Teays Valley hosts Circleville. Westfall is at home to Madison Plains and Logan Elm travels to Berne Union in a Mid-State League encounter.

Westfall will be going after its second win of the season as coach John Glanton's Mustangs crushed Berne

Union, 20-2, last week.

The Golden Eagles of Madison Plains are classed as "small but quick" with a line that averages 165 pounds and a backfield averaging around 155 pounds.

They will operate from a pro set formation with tailback Jack Maggard being the big threat. Maggard is a very elusive runner with good speed. They will go to the air as needed with tight end Pete Sullivan the prime target.

Defensively, the Golden Eagles will use a 4-3 with zone pass coverage.

They will be looking for their first win of the season after dropping the season opener to a strong Washington C.H. squad.

Westfall will move from a multiple T offense featuring the running of John Long and Tony Simon. The Mustangs aerial game will consist of drop back and play action passes.

When the Mustangs move into a defensive formation it will be an angled front five and zone pass coverage with a monster man.

The starting offensive unit for the Mustangs will be: Roger Johnson, center; Carl Strittmatter or Denny Finch at one guard and Tim Lett at the other; Mike Weindinger and Randy Hildenbrand, tackles; Eric Schleich and John Roberts, ends; Rick Stillings, quarterback; John Long, fullback; Tony Simon, tailback; Bill Evans, wingback.

On defense it will be: Tim Lett, middle guard; Eric Schleich and John Long, linebackers; Randy Hildenbrand and Terry Williams, tackles; Dave Rowland and Mike Weindinger, ends; Rick Stillings, safety; Bill Evans, halfback; Eddie Myers, shortside halfback; Randy Adams, monster man.

Coach Perry Griffith and his Logan Elm Braves will be seeking their first win after losing a tough decision to West Jefferson in the season opener.

Berne Union will also be looking for its first win in the Mid-State opener for both schools.

The Rockets will operate from a split backfield with a flanker and have a pair of good runners in Carl Hedges and Ed Kistler. Berne Union will also throw the ball as they went to the air 22 times against Westfall.

Defensively, the Rockets will utilize a 4-4 with zone pass coverage.

The Braves will be operating out of their new wishbone formation which is beginning to shape up and could give the Rockets trouble. They like to run but have an aerial game that will keep the opposition honest.

On defense, the Braves have looked quite good using a 6-2 and a 5-4.

Wayne Linthicum, Braves fullback, has suffered an ankle injury and may not see any action Friday night which could cause a revision in the offensive lineup.

Steve Rawlins will move from tackle to fullback, Dave Dean will shift from center to tackle and Bruce DeBruin will hold down the center post.

Other offensive positions will be: Seth Dreisbach and Bruce Landis, guards; Mark Kennedy, tackle; Tom Davis and Rock Huggins, ends; Jeff Reichelderfer, quarterback; Tim Justus, left half; John Eanes or Scott Allen, right half.

The defensive lineup will be: Scott Allen, Jeff Hamler and Dave Caltan, defensive backs; Jeff Reichelderfer and Bob Sargent, linebackers; Steve Rawlins and Oscar Allen, ends; Mark Kennedy and Dave Dean, tackles; Pat Williams and Bruce Landis, guards.

Grid Tickets On Sale At Teays Valley School

Tickets, both student and adult, for Friday's game between Teays Valley and Circleville will be on sale at Teays Valley High School Thursday and Friday from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Adult tickets only will be sold at the gate Friday night.

Circleville Booster Club Meets Tonight

Circleville Athletic Booster Club will meet 8 p.m. today in the high school cafeteria.

Athletic director and head football coach Larry Cook will review films of the Chillicothe game and discuss the upcoming Teays Valley contest.

Your Horoscope Television Schedule

The Circleville Herald, Wednesday September 10, 1975 21

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Some unexpected changes indicated. Do not be dismayed. They would prove beneficial in the long run, so stress your adaptability, willingness to cooperate.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You should encounter few obstacles now, but be on guard against "little" errors, miscalculations.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Keep things moving, and with well-planned design. A "wait and see" attitude could only stifle enthusiasm on this somewhat problematic day.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Stellar influences indicate a day of successful moves and plans, but all will require know-how, diligence and painstaking care. Don't launch into uncharted seas.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Double-check plans. Work out business deals, all agreements with deliberation, ascertaining facts beforehand. Attainments now will spark more gains in the future.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): This day could have its sizzling moments. You will do well to maintain an even, systematic pace and procedure, no matter what pressures may be put upon you.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): A situation out of the past may resurface and you may have to deal again with a problem you considered solved once and forever. Don't become anxious. You will emerge a stronger person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Certain members of the family may seem to be hypersensitive, on the brink of serious rifts. Try to smooth out their differences — but with the utmost diplomacy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Day could find you the recipient of some special recognition, perhaps a gift or bonus of some kind. Whatever, there is definite public reaction to your efforts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Mixed influences. Day calls for your stamina, stick-to-itiveness, good will and ability to help yourself and others out of undesirable situations.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You may be able to put over a good deal, conclude a profitable agreement. At least, steps toward such ends can be initiated. But don't press; maneuver cautiously.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Launching into un-

charted seas may take you further than expected, into waters too deep for comfort. Check before going beyond your depth.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly affable individual who makes many friends in life — and keeps them. You have a delightful sense of humor and are insatiable in your quest for knowledge. Endowed with a gift for words, you would make an outstanding writer. Brilliant in argument and debate, you could also excel as a lawyer or statesman.

Unlike many Virgoans, you may not care for business as a career but, if forced into it by circumstances, could make a good go of it through your persistence, patience and willingness to work hard at anything you undertake. You are very exacting — with yourself and others. Try to curb a tendency toward censoriousness and disillusionment when others do not live up to your lofty ideals. Birthdate of: James Thomson, poet; William Sidney Porter (O. Henry), Amer. short story writer.

Ohio Seniors Golf Lead Being Shared

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A former seniors champion and last year's runnerup have taken the first-round lead in the 35th annual Ohio Seniors Golf Tournament here.

Ed Preisler, 63, of Cleveland and Squire Caldwell, 57, of Urbana each shot 76 Tuesday on the par 72 course of The Country Club in the Cleveland suburb of Pepper Pike.

Preisler won the Seniors championship in 1967, the first year he was eligible to play. On Tuesday he shot a 37 on the front nine and 39 on the back nine.

Caldwell missed winning the championship last year when Dan Carmichael overtook him on the last hole.

Commission Puts Off Decisions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new Ohio Racing Commission, spurred by three new members, is taking its time solving the more thornier problems. The five-member body met for more than six hours Tuesday and reached no major decisions, postponing them all to a special session in Cleveland Tuesday.

Benjamin Franklin said, "If your head is wax, don't walk in the sun."

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Okay, gang, tonight's new series lineup is "Doctor's Hospital" on NBC, "Kate McShane" on CBS, and "When Things Were Rotten" and "Starsky and Hutch" on ABC.

The sole goodie is "Rotten," the Mel Brooks-created takeoff on the Robin Hood legend. Its humor is so broad you'll need a 25-foot wide set to catch it all, so dash out and get a 25-foot wide set.

"McShane," with Anne Meara as a feisty lawyer, is a salute to over-acting and bad writing. Its plot concerns a young ex-radical lady who has a good present but is arrested for an explosively bad past.

One comment from the radical gives you an idea of it all: "I just guess I'm not ready to hold hands with the Establishment."

NBC's medicine show, starring George Peppard as a chief neurosurgeon, has competent acting. But it suffers from a dread TV disease called rehashplotitis, compounded by switchitis.

Those who witnessed last Thursday's "Medical Story" on NBC saw the dedicated young intern put his career on the line by accusing a veteran surgeon of greed and unnecessary surgery that kills a patient.

In tonight's "Doctor's Hospital," a dedicated young intern puts her career on the line by accusing a veteran surgeon of having lost his skill and killing a patient with sheer ineptitude.

If M.D. rehashplotitis spreads, this'll be the year the entire nation turns its head and coughs at the mere sight of a sawbones.

Alas, the disease already has spread from surgery to flatfootery, as witness ABC's "Starsky and Hutch," a hip young undercover cop series emitted by the makers of "The Rookies" and "S.W.A.T."

It stars David Soul and Paul Glaser as with-it fuzz who tonight chase a salt-and-pepper (black and white) duo of holdup men.

In last night's "Joe Forrester" premiere on NBC, Lloyd Bridges, as a wise old beat cop, also chased a salt-and-pepper team who, disguised as plainclothes cops, also committed stickups.

Despite a strained ending, "Forrester" had good acting, a fair plot, reasonably good dialogue and believable characters.

Not so "Starsky and Hutch." It is an amateur hour of acting and dialogue, accented by gunfire and ceaseless, tire-burning 180-degree chase-sequence turns by Starsky, who can't even do a 180 correctly.

When dinosaurs died their bodies sank into mud or sand and as years passed some of their bones and teeth and bits of skin turned slowly to stone or minerals and became fossils.

In 1750 B.C. invaders ruined a great civilization in the Indus Valley that had lasted 600 years.

FCC Not Halting Religion Broadcasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission seems unable to stop an avalanche of mail urging it not to do something it never considered doing.

The letters and postcards involving religious broadcasting total about 1.3 million, says Harry Shockro, the FCC's chief of administrative services, who oversees the mail.

But that's 600,000 more than the estimate on Aug. 1, when the commission explained in a public notice that there was never any question of banning religious broadcasting from the airwaves, as almost all the letter writers feared.

The FCC made the explanation in denying a petition for a freeze on applications by religious institutions for television or FM radio channels reserved for educational stations.

Two Los Gatos, Calif., broadcast consultants, Jeremy D. Lansman and Lorenzo W. Milam, contended that the assignment of more than one educational channel in a community to a religious group deprived minority groups of access to the scarce channels.

Their petition, filed last Dec. 5, brought the snowballing avalanche of mail and phone calls to the FCC.

The FCC, in denying it, said: "As a government agency, the commission is enjoined by the First Amendment to observe a stance of neutrality toward religion, acting neither to promote nor to inhibit religion."

The FCC pointed out that the case never did involve religious programming on any commercial network or station. It involved only the channels set aside for educational use.

And the two consultants have insisted repeatedly that they were not against religious broadcasting but only those institutions which use channels to present a one-sided view.

But the mail continued unabated, spurred by many ministers, who continued to exhort their churchgoers from their pulpits or in church bulletins to write the FCC in protest.

The 1.3 million letters and postcards dwarf the previous high for mail to the FCC, 110,000 letters when the FCC was considering last year whether to ban advertising from children's TV shows.

The quantity of the mail ruled out answering it even with form letters. The mail is being piled up in a basement storage room to be kept until Monday, after the period for appealing the Milam-Lansman decision, FCC officials say.

Then it will be disposed of, they say.

Marijuana Issue On Oxford Ballot

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Mike Avey, a 27-year-old law student, wants Oxford to become Ohio's first city to decriminalize marijuana.

And despite vigorous opposition, he's not letting his two-year crusade go up in smoke.

The issue goes on the ballot Nov. 4 and Avey is busy recruiting support from Miami of Ohio students who could hold the key to the project. He is concentrating on getting Miami students registered to vote by the Oct. 6 voter registration deadline.

"If they—the students—find out they can decriminalize marijuana, then they'll do something about housing problems," said Avey.

Avey's legal struggle has ended up on the ballot in the form of a city ordinance which would make "casual" possession—four ounces or less—an offense comparable to a parking violation. The offender would be fined $5.

Oxford Police Chief Joseph Statum feels that the proposed marijuana ordinance is unconstitutional. Oxford Law Director Robert Piper said passage of the ordinance would leave local police in the dilemma of deciding whether to enforce a state statute or the lesser local law.

The present state law makes the possession of less than 3.5 ounces of marijuana an offense punishable by no more than a $100 fine with no prison sentence allowable.

Judge Cramer said the new state

drug law and the proposed marijuana ordinance do not radically differ because both create a dividing point for casual possession. He contends the $95 difference in maximum fine is not grounds enough to make the proposed ordinance unconstitutional.

Butler County Prosecutor John Holcomb has already lost one round in his fight to keep the issue off the ballot.

He said he will challenge the constitutionality of the marijuana issue if voters approve it.

Shallow Grave Mystery Solved

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Butler County authorities breathed a sigh of relief after opening up what appeared to be a shallow grave in a wooded area discovered by hunters.

James Eversole, Trenton, Ohio, told officers Monday he and a companion were hunting squirrels when they came upon the grave. He said the mound was about three feet wide, and six feet long.

There was a rude cross on the grave with the name "Tony Armstrong."

Sheriff Harold Carpenter, deputies and coroner Dr. Garret J. Boone opened the grave to discover the body of a horse.

LUNCHBOX BONUS—Chicago schoolboy Eddie Chopp, 7, takes a big bite from an apple that was destined for his teacher at the Joseph Brennan elementary school. Eddie's teacher, as well as 23,000-plus, went on strike against the Chicago Public School system on what was to be the first day of school.

'Gun Safety' Show Backfires

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A 46-year-old Toledo man is redfaced this morning after giving a woman friend a demonstration of "gun safety" Tuesday night.

Police said James Patterson was showing the woman a .25-caliber pistol, had just removed the clip and reportedly said:

"This is when the gun is most dangerous, when it is unloaded." The gun fired, hitting Patterson in the calf.
